Remembrance Past And Present:

Theatres of Memory: Past and present in contemporary culture Raphael Samuel, 1994 This work offers an overview of how the past has been manipulated in art politicized and sold to the consumer yet takes issue with those who claim this interest in heritage is merely obsessive nostalgia The author covers a multitude of topics such as the Festival of Britain and conservation

Fashion, Upcycling, and Memory Sanem Odabaşı, 2024-02-06 Fashion Upcycling and Memory questions practices and explores its profound connection to memory and sustainability Through a practice based researcher lens the research examines the intricate interplay between upcycling and memory unveiling assemblages of concepts objects and values that inspire action This book takes readers on a journey through the multidimensional relationship between individuals and clothing It delves into the disposal of garments and the transformative aspirations embedded within the fashion industry Employing the unique research methodology known as Art ography which merges artistic practice rigorous research and educational development this book unearths the dynamic interplay between upcycling and memory The author unravels the intricate web of connections within upcycling through diverse practices methods and insightful interviews By critically questioning established norms and scrutinizing the actions of fashion designers the book makes significant contributions to existing literature Additionally it offers practical recommendations for sustainable fashion education making it an indispensable resource for individuals involved in the textile and fashion field Enhanced with visual aids such as images and illustrations this book ensures an engaging reading experience that immerses readers in the research based discourse

Prophetic Remembrance Erica Still, 2014-12-17 Using the term prophetic remembrance to articulate the expression of a constituent faith in the performative capacity of language Erica Still shows how black subjectivity is born of and interprets cultural trauma She brings together African American neo slave narratives and Black South African postapartheid narratives to reveal the processes by which black subjectivity accounts for its traumatic origins names the therapeutic work of the present and inscribes the possibility of the future The author draws on trauma studies black theology and literary criticism as she considers how writers such as Toni Morrison Charles Johnson John Edgar Wideman David Bradley Sindiwe Magona K Sello Duiker and Zakes Mda explore the possibilities for rehearsing a traumatic past without being overcome by it Although both African American and South African literary studies have addressed questions of memory narrative and trauma little comparative work has been done Prophetic Remembrance offers this comparative focus in reading these literatures together to address the question of what it means to remember and to recover from racial oppression

The Time of Our Lives David Couzens Hoy, 2012-01-13 A study of the emergence

in post Kantian continental philosophy of a focus on the lived experience of temporality The project of all philosophy may be to gain reconciliation with time even if not every philosopher has dealt with time expressly A confrontation with the passing of time and with human finitude runs through the history of philosophy as an ultimate concern In this genealogy of the concept of temporality David Hoy examines the emergence in a post Kantian continental philosophy of a focus on the lived experience of the time of our lives rather than on the time of the universe The purpose is to see how phenomenological and poststructuralist philosophers have tried to locate the source of temporality how they have analyzed time s passing and how they have depicted our relation to time once it has been in a Proustian sense regained Hoy engages with competing theoretical tactics for reconciling us to our fleeting temporality drawing on work by Kant Heidegger Hegel Husserl Merleau Ponty Nietzsche Gadamer Sartre Bourdieu Foucault Bergson Deleuze i ek and Derrida Hoy considers four existential strategies for coping with the apparent flow of temporality including Proust s passive and Walter Benjamin s active reconciliation through memory i ek s critique of poststructuralist politics Foucault s confrontation with the temporality of power and Deleuze s account of Aion and Chronos He concludes by exploring whether a dual temporalization could be what constitutes the singular time of our lives

History, Memory, and the Law Austin Sarat, Thomas R. Kearns, 2009-11-10

Law in the modern era is one of the most important of our society s technologies for preserving memory In helping to construct our memory in certain ways law participates in the writing of our collective history It plays a crucial role in knitting together our past present and future The essays in this volume present grounded examinations of particular problems places and practices and address the ways in which memory works in and through law the sites of remembrance that law provides the battles against forgetting that are fought in and around those sites and the resultant role law plays in constructing history The writers also inquire about the way history is mobilized in legal decision making the rhetorical techniques for marshalling and for overcoming precedent and the different histories that are written in and through the legal process The contributors are Joan Dayan Soshana Felman Dominic La Capra Reva Siegel Brook Thomas and G

Living with the Dead

Laura King, 2025-01-13 This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC ND 4 0 International licence It is free to read on the Oxford Academic platform and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations The dead are everywhere in family life From a great grandmother s recipe made time and again to a dog eared black and white photo of a family on a beach and from a carefully curated family bible to a much told story of a family fleeing their home many decades ago families are made by their pasts This book examines the relationship between the living and the dead within family life charting the way families create afterlives for their ancestors It asks who and what gets to be remembered and why Considering different points of connection with the dead in each chapter through graves homes things photos writing research and stories this book demonstrates how death and the dead remain a crucial presence within family life Through an innovative methodology of collaborative critical family history Living with the Dead features interviews personal archives and the results of a collaboration with fifteen family historians including the author's own family. What results is a unique way of exploring family pasts of charting not only how families have remembered their dead and passed on their histories over time but the mechanisms of how histories are constructed and shared. Living with the Dead reveals how crucial the dead and stories of them are within families and provides new ways for historians to unpick the way history is intimately made.

Remembrance and Forgiveness Ajlina Karamehić-Muratović, Laura Kromjác, 2020-10-26 An enquiry into the social science of remembrance and forgiveness in global episodes of genocide and mass violence during the post-Holocaust era. This volume explores the ways in which remembrance and forgiveness have changed over time and how they have been used in more recent cases of genocide and mass violence. With case studies from Rwanda, Ethiopia, South Sudan, South Africa, Australia, Cambodia, Indonesia, Timor-Leste, Israel, Palestine, Argentina, Guatemala, El Salvador, the United States, Bosnia and Herzegovina, and Chechnya, the volume avoids a purely legal perspective to open the interpretation of post-genocidal societies, communities, and individuals to global and interdisciplinary perspectives that consider not only forgiveness and thus social harmony but remembrance and disharmony. This volume will appeal to scholars across the social sciences with interests in memory studies, genocide, remembrance, and forgiveness.

The Past Is a Foreign Country - Revisited David Lowenthal, 2015-10-01 The past remains essential and inescapable. A quarter century after the publication of his classic account of man's attitudes to his past, David Lowenthal revisits how we celebrate, expunge, contest, and domesticate the past to serve present needs. He shows how nostalgia and heritage now pervade every facet of public and popular culture. History embraces nature and the cosmos as well as humanity. The past is seen and touched and tasted and smelt as well as heard and read about. Empathy, re-enactment, memory, and commemoration overwhelm traditional history. A unified past once certified by experts and reliant on written texts has become a fragmented, contested history forged by us all. New insights into history and memory, bias and objectivity, artefacts and monuments, identity and authenticity, and remorse and contrition make this book once again the essential guide to the past that we inherit, reshape, and bequeath to the future.

Communities of Memory William James Booth, 2018-07-05 Memory has fueled merciless violent strife and it has been at the core of reconciliation and reconstruction. It has been used to justify great crimes and yet it is central to the pursuit of justice. In these and more everyday ways we live surrounded by memory, individual and social, in our habits, our names, the places where we live, street names, libraries, archives, and our citizenship institutions and laws. Still we wonder what to make of memory and its gifts, though sometimes we are hardly even certain that they are gifts. Of the many chambers in this vast palace I mean to ask, particularly after the place of memory in politics, in the identity of political communities, and in their practices of doing justice from the Preface. W. James Booth seeks to understand the place of memory in the identity, ethics, and practices of justice of political communities. Identity, he believes, is a particular kind of continuity across time, one central to the possibility of agency and responsibility, and memory plays a central role in grounding that continuity. Memory, identity, takes two forms: a habitlike form the deep presence of the past that is part of a life led in common and a more fragile vulnerable form in which memory struggles to preserve identity through time notably in bearing witness a form of memory work deeply bound up with the identity of political communities Booth argues that memory holds a defining place in determining how justice is administered Memory is tied to the very possibility of an ethical community one responsible for its own past able to make commitments for the future and driven to seek justice Underneath and motivating the politics of memory understood as contests over the writing of history over memorials museums and canons he writes there lies an intertwining of memory identity and justice Communities of Memory both argues for and maps out that intertwining

Streaming Media and Cultural Memory in a Postdigital Society Renira Rampazzo Gambarato, Johannes Heuman, 2024-12-31 This book offers a relevant contribution to the studies of streaming media and transmediality with an original approach of cultural sustainability perfectly intertwined with cultural memory beyond borders By critically reflecting on popular streaming media series the book identifies their impact on the global circulation of cultural memory their learning potential for educational purposes and the societal challenges and opportunities that emerge from the ubiquitous streaming media penetration and potential for participatory practices It also investigates how series available worldwide on commercial platforms such as Netflix and Max contribute to the global circulation of cultural memories in addition to illuminating the ethical unsustainable and educational concerns involved in the fictionalization of the past Drawing on the authors expertise in media studies and history this transdisciplinary book will interest scholars in the fields of media studies cultural studies memory studies history transmedia studies education postdigital studies television studies social communication sociology and philosophy

Memory, Consciousness and the Brain Endel Tulving, 2013-05-13 Memory and consciousness have been objects of fascination to psychologists and other brain scientists for over one hundred years Because of the complexity of the two topics however and despite great efforts spent on their study the progress in their understanding over most of this time has been rather slow Recently thanks to new techniques and to changing pre theoretical orientations the study of the role of the brain in memory and consciousness has received an immense boost and has become a central focus of research activity by thousands of researchers worldwide The volume reviews recent progress on our understanding of memory consciousness and the brain and identifies a number of acute outstanding problems The purpose of the volume based on a conference in Tallinn is to look to the future and not simply to share knowledge from ongoing research In this sense the volume does not contain a comprehensive overview of the field but rather showcases a selection of exciting ideas in cognitive neuroscience Contributors include some of the world's best known cognitive brain scientists who have greatly contributed to our understanding of memory as a relation between the brain and the mind as well as a number of highly promising younger researchers in the field Memory Consciousness and the Brain will be essential reading for anyone interested in the latest cutting edge thinking at the interface of these topics and in the future directions in which it may take us

Past, Present, and Future James Edson

White,1909 Between Concept and Identity Esteban Fernández-Cobián,2014-10-02 The identity of places of worship is one of the most difficult problems faced by religious architecture at the start of this new millennium Contemporary globalising experiences demand peremptorily a reflection both conceptual and situational on the origin of objects people and institutions Nevertheless the chance of these migration flows annihilating already existing religious identities is perceived as a problem This problem is directly linked to the survival of architecture as a system carrying a material representation of the divine and constituting a self reference system for the community of believers Therefore it is important to define the extent to which the new religious architecture has given room to an abstract type of formal experimentation which is disconnected from social reality Does this architecture maintain its bridging sacramental value or on the contrary has it given way to the conceptualist trends still alive in the artistic world Is metaphor a valid concept for the Christian religion Is there an essential aspect linking this architecture to the centuries old tradition of the Catholic Church Different architectural pedagogical exhibition and formal initiatives have arisen in recent years and it is necessary to get to know them with the purpose of understanding where contemporary religious architecture is heading in its eternal search for a permanent identity The Eschatological Person Andrew T. J. Kaethler,2022-07-12 Both Alexander Schmemmann and Joseph Ratzinger insist that the human person remains shrouded in mystery without God's self disclosure in the person of Jesus Christ Like us Jesus lived in a particular time and location and therefore time and temporality must be part of the ontological question of what it means to be a human person Yet Jesus the one who has time for us ascended to the Father and the bride of Christ awaits his return and therefore time and temporality are conditioned by the eschatological With this in mind the ontological question of personhood and temporality is a question that concerns eschatology how does eschatology shape personhood Bringing together Schmemmann and Ratzinger in a theological dialogue for the first time this book explores their respective approaches and answers to the aforementioned question While the two theologians share much in common it is only Ratzinger's relational ontological approach that by being consistently relational from top to bottom consistently preserves the meaningfulness of temporal existence The Confessions Saint Augustine (Bishop of Hippo.),1876 Factories of Memory: Cinematic Representations of the 12 September Military Coup Ozan Tekin,2014-02-01 12 September 1980 the third successful military coup in the history of Turkey has had a debilitating impact on the social political and cultural life of the country This study examines the representations of the 12 September coup through the lens of film as memory Based on the content analysis of the two films Beynelmilel 2006 and Bu Son Olsun 2012 and their reception this study examines the representations of the 12 September military coup by means of the concepts of cultural memory communicative and material memory memory of objects and construes whether the reconstruction of this particular past event is challenged by the abovementioned cinematic products as a way to impinge upon the collective memories of this seminal event in Turkey
