

An aerial photograph of a river basin, likely in Australia, showing a winding river and surrounding agricultural and natural landscapes. A thick blue line outlines the river's path and its immediate catchment area. The background is a mosaic of brown, green, and grey tones, representing different land uses and natural features.

River Basin Planning And Management:

River Basin Management Planning in Indonesia Asian Development Bank, 2016-06-01 This publication summarizes the strengths challenges opportunities and risks characterizing the prospects for integrated water resources management in Indonesia Integrated water resources management planning is essential for sustainable growth Indonesia s rapid economic growth increasing populations and trends in developing and urbanizing environments are leading to potential conflicts as more users claim the same water resources Understanding these conditions may provide decision makers with more insight to optimize the country s water resources potential using available and state of the art methodologies and tools for river basin planning The report discusses all aspects of basin planning based on experiences from one of Indonesia s most complex and strategic river basins River Basin Planning Principles UNESCO, 2013 River Basin Planning and Management I. Betlem, 1995

River Basin Planning and Management Mahmoud A. Abu-Zeid, Asit K. Biswas, 1996 This book focuses on some strategic national and regional aspects of water in the regions of the Nile Basin ie Middle East and North Africa Water is one of the main development challenges facing the Nile countries Problems of frequent and prolonged drought and water quality in ground and surface waters are becoming very serious Water quality is being considered by some to be the most serious issue the country will have to address Comprehensive management of the regions water resources will increasingly require agreements at National and transnational levels An integrated approach for national and basin wide development could contribute significantly in dealing with the problems This book identifies technical solutions in a broad comprehensive framework which may contribute to an environmentally sustainable development benefitting all the Nile countries

Review of Integrated Approaches to River Basin Planning , Development, and Management , Planning and Managing Water Resources at the River-basin Level François Molle, 2006 The concept of a river basin as a management or planning unit has gone through several stages and is in a state of flux Implementing Integrated River Basin Management François Molle, Thai Hoanh Chu, 2009 The report focuses on the establishment of the Red River Basin Organization RRBO in Vietnam but expands its analysis to the wider transformations of the water sector that impinge on the formation and effectiveness of this organization A few reflections on the policy process are drawn from this analysis albeit in a tentative form given the relatively limited period of time considered here The report shows that the promotion of IWRM icons such as RBOs by donors has been quite disconnected from the existing institutional framework However the establishment of RBOs might eventually strengthen a better separation of operation and regulation roles Institutional change is shown to result from the interaction between endogenous processes and external pressures in ways that are barely predictable River Basin Planning for Water Quality Management in Massachusetts John R. Water for Life James L. Wescoat, Jr,Gilbert F. White,2003-10-16 Successful water management is crucial for the proper operation of natural environmental systems and for the support of human society These two aspects are interdependent but decisions about one are often made without regard to effects upon the other A persistent challenge is to consider them together This book fully analyzes the relationship between water management environmental conditions and public policy It combines a careful review of the character and evolution of water management and evaluates management from the standpoint of the quality of the natural environment Topics covered include domestic and industrial water supply and waste disposal groundwater use river channel and floodplain management and integrated river basins The processes of social decision making are examined against a backdrop of plant soil water ecosystem relationships and ecosystem change Examples are drawn from around the world from local watershed management to international river basin planning with emphasis on integrative approaches Merrimack River Basin Plan New Hampshire Water Supply and Pollution Control Commission,1973
