practice of auspices with a focus on attempts to avoid ignore or resist this requirement Proceeding from an examination of the Roman concepts of imperium and auspices auspicia especially as they relate to the realm of war and of the constitutional position and powers of the Dictator and the Master of Horse magister equitum relative to each other and to the Consuls and lower magistrates the work offers six case studies in which Roman commanders questioned violated or openly rejected the need for auspices It is argued that these instances reflect a not insignificant minority view within the Roman ruling class regarding the efficacy of auspices and the necessity of observing them The catastrophic outcome in several of these events particularly during the early years of the Second Punic War rendered further resistance to the practice politically unsustainable and by the second century resulted in its universal acceptance regardless of personal belief
