Personal Reminiscences of General Robert E. Lee J. William Jones, 2004-03 When Robert E Lee passed on without setting pen to paper on his memoirs both North and South alike were deprived of a classic personal history of the War Between the States worthy to sit on the shelf next to Ulysses S Grant s Personal Memoirs The Reverend J William Jones Lee s chaplain compiled this collection of reminiscences in its place as a memorial volume commemorating his death Filled with correspondence with President Andrew Johnson General Grant and C S A Generals Scott Beauregard and Longstreet and personal anecdotes from Lee s wartime contemporaries such as Jubal Early Jeb Magruder Jefferson Davis and Winfield Scott What comes to light is a personal portrait of Lee as family man gentleman scholar and soldier as well as an eyewitness account of the war that threatened to tear the United States asunder as witnessed by the South s greatest military leader The Reverend J William Jones D D was the chaplain of the Army of Northern Virginia under the command of General Robert E Lee and after the Civil War served as chaplain for Washington College in Virginia under Lee s presidency It was my proud privilege to have known General Lee intimately I saw him on that day in April 1861 on which he came to offer his stainless sword to the land that gave him birth I followed his standard from Harper s Ferry in 1861 to Appomattox Court house in 1865 coming into somewhat frequent contact with him rejoicing with him at his long series of brilliant victories and weeping with him when compelled to yield to overwhelming numbers and resources This first attempt at authorship is sent forth with a sincere desire that it may prove acceptable to the countless admirer of the great Confederate chieftain that it may serve to give to all a higher appreciation of his noble character and that it may prove a blessing to the young men of the country more especially to those who wore the gray by inducing them to study in order that they may imitate his shining virtues

Recollections and Letters of General Robert E. Lee Capt Robert E Lee Jr, Robert E. Lee, 2013-05-29 It is hard to believe that a book written so long ago could still stir such emotion in the reader I thoroughly enjoyed every page What an amazing man General Lee was If he had been aware that his son was going to write his biography he probably would have burned all his letters or maybe not written them at all he was such a humble person who did not want to be the celebrity that he was I am so grateful that he did I could not put the book down A more loving caring intelligent man we will never meet The writing is not in the usual form of a biography as it is written as a documentary of the General's correspondence In it we see into the mind and heart of this great leader

Racine, 2008 Gentlemen Merchants preserves the correspondence between members of two wealthy slaveholding merchant families the Gourdins and the Youngs in nineteenth century Charleston South Carolina Because the correspondence lasts over forty years the letters provide a significant record of historical Southern themes Plantation born urban dwellers the correspondents comment deeply and widely on their own family history religion in the South slavery and race business secession Civil War and Reconstruction Gentlemen Merchants offers a fresh perspective on the Old South's elite slaveholders from the vantage point of commercial offices docks and wharves instead of the rural plantation These prominent Charleston families grew wealthy through commercial trading of Sea Island and upland cotton rice and wine Charleston emerges as a main character in these letters as the discrepancy between the wealthy upper class and working class immigrants becomes more pronounced There are also letters from family members who traveled widely for business and pleasure They recount travel adventures in England and France on the slopes of Mount Vesuvius and at Niagara Falls The Gourdins and Youngs lived in material comfort for over three decades and fought to preserve their way of life the basis of which was made possible by slavery The family was one shaped by privilege and destroyed by war When the world changed as a result of the Civil War the family members were left penniless It is unusual that both sides of this correspondence have survived making this collection an extraordinary primary source for historical research Historically minded general readers will also enjoy the perspective on the urban South that these letters provide Philip N Racine published numerous articles and books about southern history including Piedmont Farmer He is currently the William R Kenan Professor of History at Wofford College where he has taught since 1969 The Greenhill Dictionary of Military Quotations Peter G.
