

The Earth, she cries
She weeps for her children
They tear her apart
They tear each other apart Forgotten ancient truths
We are not solitary
We are not separate
We are all connected by the web of love that binds us all binds us to each other binds us to Mother Earth
What we do to the Earth is also done to ourselves
We are connected
We are one

Sacred Differences Poems For Mother Earth:

Poems at the Edge of Differences Renate Papke, 2008 This study consists of two parts The first part offers an overview of feminism s theory of differences The second part deals with the textual analysis of poems about mothering by women from India the Caribbean and Africa Literary criticism has dealt with the representation of mothering in prose texts The exploration of lyrical texts has not yet come Since the late 1970s the acknowledgement of and the commitment to difference has been foundational for feminist theory and activism This investigation promotes a differentiated locational feminism Friedman The comprehensive theoretical discussion of feminism s different concepts of gender race ethnicity and mothering builds the foundation for the main part the presentation and analysis of the poems The issue of mothering foregrounds the communicative aspect of women s experience and wants to bridge the gap between theory and practice This study however does not intend to specify mothering as a universal and unique feminine characteristic It underlines a metaphorical use and discusses the concepts of nurturing maternal practice and social parenthood Regarding the extensive material this study understands itself as an explorative not concluding investigation placed at the intersections of gender studies postcolonial and classical literary studies Most of all it aims at initiating a dialogue and interchange between scholars and students in the Western and the Third World

Time and Nature in the Poetry of Niyi Osundare Chukwunwike Anolue, 2024-08-02 This book provides an ecocritical analysis of the poetry of the famous Nigerian poet Niyi Osundare It interrogates the intricate interface between time and nature in 11 of Osundare s defining poetry collections This is a book of postcolonial ecocriticism from an African perspective It brings together the ecocritical theory of animism and theories of geologic time in the discussion of Osundare s poetry Osundare shows that animism has a lot to offer in enriching human understanding of the ecosystem And while he eloquently catalogues problems undermining the health of the earth in this age of the Anthropocene and the Capitalocene in his poetry he also holds on to the hope of a better future

The book concludes that Osundare's optimism is what informs his use of poetry to press humankind to rise to the duty of salvaging the environment. Deploying an interdisciplinary approach that stretches across the fields of literature, religion, geology, physics, economics, and anthropology, this book will be an important read for those looking for fresh ways to understand Osundare's poetry and African nature writing. African Literature, Mother Earth and Religion Enna Sukutai Gudhlanga, 2022-03-15. This book is a collection of essays that explore the intersection of Earth, Gender, and Religion in African literary texts. It examines cultural, religious, theological, and philosophical traditions and their construction of perspectives and attitudes about Earth, keeping, and gender. This publication is critical given the current global environmental crisis and its impact on African and global communities. The book is multidisciplinary in approach, literary, environmental, theological, and sociological, exploring the intersection of African creative work, religion, and the environment in their construction of Earth and gender. It presents how the gendered interconnectedness of the natural environment with its broad spirituality and deep identification with the woman features prominently in the myths, folklores, legends, rituals, sacred songs, and incantations that are explored in this collection. Both male and female writers in the collection laud and accept woman's enduring motif as worker, symbol, and guardian of the environment. This interconnectedness mirrors the importance of the environment for the survival of both human and non-human components of Mother Earth. The ideology of women's agency is emphasised and reinforced by ecofeminist theologians, namely those viewing African women as active agents working closely with the environment and not as subordinates. In the context of the environmental crisis, the nurturing role of women should be bolstered, and the rich African traditions that conserved the environment preserved. The book advocates the re-engagement of women, particularly their knowledge and conservation techniques, and how these can become reservoirs of dying traditions. This volume offers recorded traditions in African literary texts, thereby connecting gender, religion, and the environment, and helpful perspectives in Earth keeping.

From Here to Diversity Clara Sarmiento, 2010-08-11. From Here to Diversity: Globalization and Intercultural Dialogues sees interculturalism as movement, transit, travel, and the dynamics between cultures. Contemporary intercultural travel is a global journey, a circumnavigation at the speed of light that underwrites all the comings and goings, the departures and arrivals, the transmissions and receptions that are implicit in this title. Hence From Here to Diversity examines the motivations, characteristics, and implications of cultural interactions in their perpetual movement, devoid of spatial or temporal borders, in a dangerous but stimulating indefinable of limits. In the contemporary intercultural dialogue, new voices are making themselves heard as valuable sources of study: the voices of women, non-occidentals, the non-powerful, forgotten narratives of a past that was as intercultural as the present, after all, what is colonialism other than a perverse form of interculturality? Global entertainment, tourism, oral literature, diaries, mythical narratives, the cinema, ethnography, and new teachings among so many others. Because this project is also intercultural at its source and subject, From Here to Diversity: Globalization and Intercultural Dialogues adds to the coherence of the project by including contributions from the most wide ranging backgrounds and nationalities without fear of the alterity that after all we propose to study
