Martin Byers, DeeAnne Wymer, 2010-05-23 The IRA 1926 1936 Fortress Attica I. Ober, 2018-07-17 This book analyzes the defense policy of Athens in the period after the Peloponnesian War In order to counter new offensive strategies and to protect vital local sources of revenue the Athenians instituted a system of territorial defense based on massive frontier fortresses and a sophisticated signal network Individual chapters treat Athens postwar economic situations the development of Greek military science the rise of a defensive mentality among the Athenian citizens theorectical literature on defense and Athens military establishment A major section is devoted to detailed descriptions of the land routes into Attica and of all ancient fortresses towers and military highways in the frontier zones Concluding chapters demonstrate how the defense system worked in practic Greek and Roman Technology Andrew N. Sherwood, Milorad Nikolic, John W. Humphrey, John P. Oleson, 2019-10-23 In this new edition of Greek and Roman Technology the authors translate and annotate key passages from ancient texts to provide a history and analysis of the origins and development of technology in the classical world Sherwood and Nikolic with Humphrey and Oleson provide a comprehensive and accessible collection of rich and varied sources to illustrate and elucidate the beginnings of technology Among the topics covered are energy basic mechanical devices hydraulic engineering household industry medicine and health transport and trade and military technology This fully revised Sourcebook collects more than 1 300 passages from over 200 ancient sources and a diverse range of literary genres such as the encyclopaedic Natural History of Pliny the Elder the poetry of Homer and Hesiod the philosophies of Plato Aristotle and Lucretius the agricultural treatises of Varro Columella and Cato the military texts of Philo of Byzantium and Aeneas Tacticus as well as the medical texts of Galen Celsus and the Hippocratic Corpus Almost 100 line drawings indexes of authors and subjects introductions outlining the general significance of the evidence notes to explain the specific details and current bibliographies are included This new and revised edition of Greek and Roman Technology will remain an important and vital resource for students of technology in the ancient world as well as those studying the impact of technological change on classical society Pilgrim Road Albert Holtz, O.S.B., 2006-11-01 In the view of St Benedict of Nursia the Lenten journey is an inner pilgrimage with Christ into the deepest parts of ourselves to be marked not so much by external observances such as fasting and self denial as by a deepening of our relationship with God Benedictine monk Albert Holtz develops that journey theme through meditations written during a fifteen country pilgrimage during a sabbatical year At the heart of each reflection is the lesson it teaches about our inner spiritual journey By applying Benedict's monastic wisdom to the everyday concerns and aspirations of modern Christians Pilgrim Road helps contemporary spiritual seekers keep Lent as a positive meaningful and fruitful experience Contemporary Irish Writing and Environmentalism Donna L. Potts, 2018-09-19 This book examines how the Irish environmental movement which began gaining momentum in the 1970s has influenced and been addressed by contemporary Irish writers artists and musicians It examines Irish environmental writing music and art within their cultural contexts considers how postcolonial ecocriticism might usefully be applied to Ireland and analyzes the rhetoric of Irish environmental protests It places the Irish environmental movement within the broader contexts of Irish national and postcolonial discourses focusing on the following protests the M3 Motorway the Burren campaign the Carnsore Point anti nuclear protest Shell to Sea the turf debate and the Autopsy in Athens Margaret M. Miles, 2015-07-24 This is an exciting time to study in Athens The animal rights movement rescue excavations of recent years conducted during construction of the Metro system and in preparation for the 2004 Olympics Games combined with major restoration projects and a new enthusiasm for fresh examination of old material using new techniques and applications brings new perspectives and answers on many aspects of the ancient city of Athens and life politics and religion in Attica The 15 papers presented here contribute new findings that result from intensive firsthand examinations of the archaeological and epigraphical evidence They illustrate how much may be gained by reexamining material from older excavations and from the methodological shift from documenting information to closer analysis and larger historical reflection They offer a variety of perspectives on a range of issues the ambiance of the ancient city for passers by filled with roadside shrines techniques of architectural construction and sculpting religious expression in Athens including cults of Asklepios and Serapis the precise procedures for Greek sacrifice how the borders of Attica were defined over time and details of its road system In presenting this volume the contributors are continuing in a long tradition of autopsy in the sense of personal observation in Athens that began even in the Hellenistic period and has continued through the writings of centuries of travelers and academics to the present day Engineering the Ancient World Dick Parry, 2005-09-29 How high were the walls of Jericho Where did Nebuchanezzar get hold of all the bitumen he needed for the millions of bricks required to build Babylon Was the ancient Suez canal really 200km long and did 120 000 Egyptians die in the course of its construction The ancient historian Herodotus had answers to all these questions and filled many pages of his famous histories with descriptions of the wonders and marvels that he saw on his extensive travels through Egypt Greece Mesopotamia and Persia from the hanging gardens of Babylon to the temple of Diana at Ephesus In Engineering the Ancient World engineering expert Dick Parry goes back over Herodotus's footsteps and compares his accounts of the extraordinary achievements of ancient engineers builders and designers with what archaeologists and historians have since discovered In a fascinating interplay between ancient writer and modern scientist we learn that though we often have to take Herodotus with a pinch of salt he was not far short of the truth With Dick Parry to guide us through the places that Herodotus visited we can appreciate the extraordinary technological genius which brought about these impressive monuments The People of
