Cocksedge, 2021-01-30 This timely book brings together the stories of St Francis his preaching to birds rejection of wealth caring for lepers befriending animals and living simply his poetry and hymnody in praise of creation that is still sung today and the influential writings and examples of inspiring Franciscans who have followed him such as Clare Bonaventure Duns Scotus and Angela of Foligno and draws them into conversation with contemporary concerns for our planet It gathers 800 years of accumulated wisdom and practical examples of how Franciscans have found ways to live at home and at peace with creation It explores that long tradition and experience to ask what lessons can be drawn for today to challenge and enable readers to re visit their own relationship with creation Seeing Slowly Michael Findlay, 2017-09-26 When it comes to viewing art living in the information age is not necessarily a benefit So argues Michael Findlay in this book that encourages a new way of looking at art Much of this thinking involves stripping away what we have been taught and instead trusting our own instincts opinions and reactions Including reproductions of works by Mark Rothko Paul Klee Joan Mir Jacob Lawrence and other modern and contemporary masters this book takes readers on a journey through modern art Chapters such as What Is a Work of Art Can We Look and See at the Same Time and Real Connoisseurs Are Not Snobs not only give readers the confidence to form their own opinions but also encourages them to make connections that spark curiosity intellect and imagination The most important thing for us to grasp writes Findlay is that the essence of a great work of art is inert until it is seen Our engagement with the work of art liberates its essence After reading this book even the most intimidated art viewer will enter a museum or gallery feeling more confident and leave it feeling enriched and inspired The Epistemology of Reading and Interpretation René van Woudenberg, 2021-09-16 Reading and textual interpretation are ordinary human activities performed inside as well as outside academia but precisely how they function as unique sources of knowledge is not well understood In this book Ren van Woudenberg explores the nature of reading and how it is distinct from perception and attending to testimony which are two widely acknowledged knowledge sources After distinguishing seven accounts of interpretation van Woudenberg discusses the question of whether all reading inevitably involves interpretation and shows that although reading and interpretation often go together they are distinct activities He goes on to argue that both reading and interpretation can be paths to realistically conceived truth and explains the conditions under which we are justified in believing that they do indeed lead us to the truth Along the way he offers clear and novel analyses of reading meaning interpretation and interpretative knowledge Yale Classics (Vol. 2) Plautus, Terence, Ennius, Catullus, Lucretius, Julius
