Language Arts in Asia 2 Christina DeCoursey, 2014-06-19 This volume is the second of a series deepening the research understanding and academic study of Language Arts as an English language teaching paradigm Previously used extensively in native speaking countries Language Arts has been taken up in the past decade in many parts of Asia Language Arts uses intrinsically motivating materials such as literature drama and popular culture to help students develop mastery of written and spoken language and text types In recent years Language Arts has embraced media and multiliteracies as well as critical and creative thinking intercultural sensitivity civics and ethics This volume offers a breadth of topics which embody methodologically sophisticated and contemporary language arts research These include multimodal analysis virtual environments the use of comics anime and film in second language teaching and learners experiences of drama and literary tourism The use of literature and the arts in humanist education has a long history within Europe It was traditionally appreciated for its ability to instil ethics and finer sensibilities and teach leadership But the traditional program was marred by its function in inculcating and preserving elitist high culture voices texts and values The post colonial incarnation of Language Arts has been informed by critical and linguistic theory helping it to embrace a popular scope and include a wide array of authentic social and media texts The movement of English language teaching beyond native speaker shores has given rise to a vibrant variety of World Englishes whose literary and media works are now represented within Language Arts The explosion of media over the past few decades has given rise to an increasing array of media to use in language teaching These trends invite scholarly analysis and this is clearly reflected in the chapters in this volume Linguistics has long had a connection to and a natural role to play in analysing the creative verbal and visual arts As a paradigm Language Arts now takes an inclusive view of the continuum of spoken written and performed languages and texts Cutting edge Language Arts research is now also supported through the new journal Language Arts and Linguistics Taylor and Francis

Inspiring Stories in Chinese LYDIA LIN,2022-08-22 This is another helpful language learning book produced by the author of Learn Chinese through Songs and Rhymes Whereas Learn Chinese through Songs and Rhymes capitalizes on our natural ability to recall lyrics for simple songs and rhymes this book introduces additional sets of vocabulary and sentence patterns to intermediate level students through a selection of interesting stories that cover many different aspects of life enabling the reader to learn a bit about the culture of a few countries as well as a number of important scientific and medical discoveries The main text is fully annotated with pinyin and English translation The emphasis of the instructional sections is still on learning words phrases and making sentences The authors s succinct and articulate writing style makes this book an enjoyable read even though its main purpose is to help you learn Chinese Encyclopedia of Literary Translation Into English: A-L O. Contributions to Education ,1929 Towers in the Void S. E. Kile,2023-05-30 The maverick cultural entrepreneur Li Yu survived the tumultuous Ming Qing dynastic transition of the mid seventeenth century through a commercially successful practice founded on intermedial experimentation He engaged an astonishingly broad variety of cultural forms from theatrical performance and literary production to fashion and wellness from garden and interior design to the composition of letters and administrative documents Drawing on his nonliterary work to reshape his writing he translated this wide ranging expertise into easily transmittable woodblock printed form Towers in the Void is a groundbreaking analysis of Li Yu's work across these varied fields. It uses the concept of media to traverse them, revealing Li Yu's creative enterprise as a remaking of early modern media forms. S. E. Kile argues that Li Yu's cultural experimentation exploits the seams between language and the tangible world. He draws attention to the materiality of particular media forms, expanding the scope of early modern media by interweaving books, buildings, and bodies. Within and across these media, Li Yu's cultural entrepreneurship with the technology of the printed book embraced its reproducibility while retaining a personal touch. His literary practice informed his garden design, and conversely, he drew on garden design to transform the vernacular short story. Ideas for extreme body modification in Li Yu's fiction remade the possibilities of real human bodies in his nonfiction writing. Towers in the Void calls for seeing books, bodies, and buildings as interlinked media forms both in early modern China and in today's media-saturated world, positioning the Ming and Qing as a crucial site of global early modern cultural change.

Reading Development and Difficulties in Monolingual and Bilingual Chinese Children Xi Chen, Qiuying Wang, Yang Cathy Luo, 2013-11-04. This volume explores Chinese reading development, focusing on children in Chinese societies and bilingual Chinese-speaking children in Western societies. The book is structured around four themes: psycholinguistic study of reading, reading disability, bilingual and biliteracy development, and Chinese children's literature. It discusses issues that are pertinent to improving language and literacy development and complex cognitive, linguistic, and socio-cultural factors that underlie language and literacy development. In addition, the book identifies instructional practices that can enhance literacy development and academic achievement. This volume offers an integrative framework of Chinese reading and deepens our understanding of the intricate processes that underlie Chinese children's literacy development. It promotes research in reading Chinese and celebrates the distinguished and longstanding career of Richard C. Anderson.

Topics and Concepts in Literary Translation Roberto A. Valdeón, 2020-06-29. This book explores literary translation in a variety of contexts. The chapters showcase the research into literary translation in North America, Europe, and Asia. Written by a group of experienced researchers and young academics, the contributors study a variety of languages, including English, Spanish, Italian, Chinese, French, Japanese, Dutch, German, and Swedish, using a wide range of approaches, including quantitative review of literary translations, transfictional approaches to translation, and a review of concepts such as paratexts, intralingual translation, intertextuality, and retranslation, and aim to expand on existing debates on translation and translation studies as a discipline. The chapters aim to provide a panorama of the variety of topics and interests of contemporary translation studies, as well as problematize some of the concepts and approaches that seem to have become the only accepted, acceptable model in some academic quarters. This book was originally published as a special issue of Perspectives Studies in Translation Theory and Practice.
