Pulp Magazines John Dinan, 2015-06-14 From the late 1800s through the first half of the 1900s, pulp magazines costing a dime and filled with both fiction and nonfiction were a staple of American life. Though often overlooked by popular culturalists, sports were one of the staples of the pulp scene. Such standards as the National Police Gazette and All Story carried some sports stories, and several publications such as Sport Story Magazine were entirely devoted to them. An overview of the pulps is followed by an examination of those devoted to sports, how they came into being, the development of the genre, the popularity of its heroes, and coverage of real-life events. The roles of editors, writers, artists, and publishers are then fully covered. A chapter on Street Smith, the foremost publisher of sports pulps, follows, while a concluding chapter discusses the reasons for the demise of the pulps in the early 1950s. Louis L'Amour on Film and Television Ed

These selections include the beginnings of a post-apocalyptic science fiction tale, a proposal for a nonfiction project based on the life of Renaissance era traveler Ibn Batuta and two chapters of a historical novel set in India about the origin of L'Amour's well known Talon family. At the other end of the spectrum are classic adventures such as In the Measure of Time a chance encounter set on the high seas and a science fiction film treatment set in Mexico as well as seventeen chapters of a novel that reappears throughout Louis's journals and letters and speaks to his fascination with post revolutionary 1950s China leading him so far as to correspond with the Dalai Lama. The New Orleans of Fiction. James A. Kaser, 2014-07-29. The importance of New Orleans in American culture has made the city's place in the American imagination a crucial topic for literary scholars and cultural historians. While databases of bibliographical information on New Orleans centered fiction are available, they are of little use to scholars researching works written before the 1980s. In The New Orleans of Fiction: A Research Guide, James A. Kaser provides detailed synopses for more than 500 works of fiction significantly set in New Orleans and published between 1836 and 1980. The synopses include plot summaries, names of major characters, and an indication of physical settings. An appendix provides bibliographical information for works dating from 1981 well into the 21st century, while a biographical section provides basic information about the authors, some of whom are obscure and would be difficult to find in other sources. Written to assist researchers in locating works of fiction for analysis, the plot summaries highlight ways in which the works touch on major aspects of social history and cultural studies, i.e., class.
