Postman Postman Kill My Postman A Love Story:

Criminal Femmes Fatales in American Hardboiled Crime Fiction Maysaa Husam Jaber, 2016-02-02 This book fills a gap in both literary and feminist scholarship by offering the first major study of femme fatales in hardboiled crime fiction. Maysaa Jaber shows that the criminal literary figures in the genre open up powerful spaces for imagining female agency in direct opposition to the constraining forces of patriarchy and misogyny.

The Dame in the Kimono Leonard J. Leff, Jerold L. Simmons, 2013-07-24 This excellent, lively study examines the raucous debate sparked by the Code over the morals and ideals of American movies. Publishers Weekly: The new edition of this seminal work takes the story of the Production Code and motion picture censorship into the present, including the creation of the PG-13 and NC-17 ratings in the 1990s. Starting in the early 1930s, the Production Code Director Joe Breen and his successor Geoff Shurlock understood that American motion pictures needed enough rope, enough sex and violence and tang to lasso an audience and not enough to strangle the industry. To explore the history and implementation of the Motion Picture Production Code, this book uses 11 movies: Dead End, Gone With the Wind, The Outlaw, The Postman Always Rings Twice, The Bicycle Thief, Detective Story, A Streetcar Named Desire, The Moon Is Blue, The French Line, Lolita, and Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf. The authors combine a lively style with provocative insights and a wealth of anecdotes to show how the code helped shape American screen content for nearly 50 years. A readable, intimate account of the rise to near tyrannical power and the fall to well-deserved ignominy of the old Production Code Administration. Atlantic Monthly: A valuable insight into our own innocence and naivety. The New York Times Book Review: The triumph of Leff and Simmons's fine work is that they have reminded us of how fatuous and inimical a code of conduct can be, how tempting it is as a theoretical answer and how intrinsically flawed it is as a working solution. The Times of London.

Film Remakes Constantine Verevis, 2005-11-15 This is the first book to provide a comprehensive and systematic account of the phenomenon of cinematic remaking. Drawing upon recent theories of genre and intertextuality, Film Remakes describes remaking as both an elastic concept and a complex situation, one enabled and limited by the interrelated roles and practices of industry, critics, and audiences. This approach to remaking is developed across three broad sections the first remaking as industrial category deals with issues of production including commerce and authors the second remaking as textual category considers genre plots and structures and the third remaking as critical category investigates issues of reception including audiences and institutions The film remake emerges as a particular case of repetition a function of cinematic and discursive fields that is maintained by historically specific practices such as copyright law and authorship canon formation and media literacy film criticism and re viewing These points are made through the lively discussion of numerous historical and contemporary examples including the remaking of classics Double Indemnity All That Heaven Allows Psycho foreign art films Yojimbo Solaris Le Samourai cult movies Gun Crazy Planet of the Apes Dawn of the Dead and television properties Batman The Addams Family Charlie s Angels The Children's Hour: Modern stories ,1907 Stories by Juliana Horatia Ewing Juliana Horatia Ewing,1920 Encyclopedia of Pulp Fiction Writers Lee Server,2014-05-14 Provides an introduction to American pulp fiction during the twentieth century with brief author biographies and lists of their works Number Four Colin Cotterill,2018 Number Four The Zero Finger Option is the fourth in a new series of Colin Cotterill short stories featuring his female news reporter and detective Jimm Juree Fans of Jimm know her from the four novels where with the help of the members of her strange family she usually solves the crime Move over Miss Marple Jimm Juree does it for the 21st Century In The Zero Finger Option a letter a day delivered by a good looking young postman leads Jimm into a new mystery It starts as a case of internet scamming but ends up somewhere far worse Jackanapes Juliana Horatia Ewing,1893 The Golden Book Magazine ,1924 Delphi Complete Works of Mary Roberts Rinehart (Illustrated) Mary Roberts Rinehart,2022-12-09 The American Agatha Christie Mary Roberts Rinehart was a seminal writer in the development of mystery and detective fiction who introduced the had I but known narrative style and the butler did it plot device The Circular Staircase her first book and first mystery was an immediate success and was followed by a series of popular edge of your seat murder mysteries For the first time in publishing history our edition features Rinehart s complete fictional works with numerous illustrations rare texts informative introductions and the usual Delphi bonus material Version 1 Beautifully illustrated with images relating to Rinehart s life and works Concise introductions to the major texts All 38 novels with individual contents tables Many rare novels appearing for the first time in digital publishing Images of how the books were first published giving your eReader a taste of the original texts Excellent formatting of the texts The Complete Tish Carberry books and the Complete Hilda Adams Series Rare story collections available in no other collection Special chronological and alphabetical contents tables for the short stories Easily locate the stories you want to read Includes rare uncollected stories available in no other collection A selection of Rinehart s non fiction Features an autobiography discover Rinehart s incredible life Ordering of texts into chronological order and genres Please visit www.delphiclassics.com to browse through our range of exciting titles CONTENTS The Letitia Carberry Series The Amazing Adventures of Letitia Carberry 1911 Tish 1916 More Tish 1921 Tish Plays the Game 1926 Tish Marches on 1937
