Collours Rem Koolhaas, 2001. The nature of colour should change no longer just a thin layer of change but something that genuinely alters perception. This stipulation of Rem Koolhaas is echoed by the world famous architects and designers Alessandro Mendini and Norman Foster. In this volume they present between them a total of 90 colours each covering half a page accompanied by comments on the background, the significance and the applications of the colours. Studies of colours from each office form the basis of this book and were previously only available in extravagant individual editions. With this comprehensive and consistent presentation of the varying approaches to colour we have a compendium which shows the wide use of colour in today's technologically advanced architecture with its modern, post modern and deconstructive orientation. The range of examples of the colours in practice includes load bearing structures, facades, interior design, furnishing and the entire spectrum of product design. OMA - Rem Koolhaas living Rem Koolhaas, Arc en rêve centre d'architecture, 1998. Junkspace with Running Room Rem Koolhaas, Hal Foster, 2016-09-13. Junkspace first appeared in the Harvard Design School Guide to Shopping 2001, a vast compendium of text, images and data concerning the consumerist transformation of city and suburb from the first department store to the latest mega mall. The architect Rem Koolhaas itemized in Delirious Detail how our cities are being overwhelmed. His celebrated jeremiad is updated here and twinned with Running Room, a fresh response from the cultural critic Hal Foster. Junkspace describes the bleak and featureless world of capitalism while Running Room seeks to find a space within the junk in which the individual might still exist. Rem Koolhaas/OMA Roberto Gargiani, 2006.
