Granny'S Place Arvis Marie Taitt,2017-01-03 It was 1958 and back in the day the old folks still seemed to have a saying for everything especially in Suffolk Virginia One such saying was that if a baby took eleven months to arrive on this side of the hereafter that same baby would meet its guardian angel face to face and be guarded and protected for the child's lifetime Believe it or not theres something else the old folks use to say about such a mystic birth and that was that if the baby was born with a thin membrane covering the face not only would that child be able to actually see its guardian angel one day but also will have the gift of predicting the future The guardian angel bit of news was of particular importance because that child experienced the death of a loved one and numerous harsh circumstances in life as well Consuming Identity Ashli Quesinberry Stokes,Wendy Atkins-Sayre,2016-11-02 Southerners love to talk food quickly revealing likes and dislikes regional preferences and their own delicious stories Because the topic often crosses lines of race class gender and region food supplies a common fuel to launch discussion Consuming Identity sifts through the self definitions allegiances and bonds made possible and strengthened through the theme of southern foodways The book focuses on the role food plays in building identities accounting for the messages food sends about who we are how we see ourselves and how we see others While many volumes examine southern food this one is the first to focus on food s rhetorical qualities and the effect that it can have on culture The volume examines southern food stories that speak to the identity of the region explain how food helps to build identities and explore how it enables cultural exchange Food acts rhetorically with what we choose to eat and serve sending distinct messages It also serves a vital identity building function factoring heavily into our memories narratives and understanding of who we are Finally because food and the tales surrounding it are so important to southerners the rhetoric of food offers a significant and meaningful way to open up dialogue in the region By sharing and celebrating both foodways and the food itself southerners are able to revel in shared histories and traditions In this way individuals find a common language despite the divisions of race and class that continue to plague the South The rich subject of southern fare serves up a significant starting point for understanding the powerful rhetorical potential of all food Beauty and Bands Ellen Thorneycroft Fowler,1920
