Road From Coorain:

The Road from Coorain Jill Ker Conway, 2011-06-22 In a memoir that pierces and delights us Jill Ker Conway tells the story of her astonishing journey into adulthood a journey that would ultimately span immense distances and encompass worlds ideas and ways of life that seem a century apart She was seven before she ever saw another girl child At eight still too small to mount her horse unaided she was galloping miles alone across Coorain her parents thirty thousand windswept drought haunted acres in the Australian outback doing a man's job of helping herd the sheep because World War II had taken away the able bodied men She loved and makes us see and feel the vast unpeopled landscape beautiful and hostile whose uncertain weathers tormented the sheep ranchers with conflicting promises of riches and inescapable disaster She adored and makes us know her large visioned father and her strong radiant mother who had gone willingly with him into a pioneering life of loneliness and bone breaking toil who seemed miraculously to succeed in creating a warmly sheltering home in the harsh outback and who upon her husband's sudden death when Jill was ten began to slide bereft of the partnership of work and love that had so utterly fulfilled her into depression and dependency We see Jill staggered by the loss of her father catapulted to what seemed another planet the suburban Sydney of the 1950s and its crowded noisy cliquish school life Then the heady excitement of the University but with it a yet more demanding course of lessons Jill embracing new ideas new possibilities while at the same time trying to be mother to her mother and resenting it escaping into drink pulling herself back striking a balance We see her slowly gaining strength coming into her own emotionally and intellectually and beginning the joyous love affair that gave wings to her newfound self Worlds away from Coorain in America Jill Conway became a historian and the first woman president of Smith College Her story of Coorain and the road from Coorain startles by its passion and evocative power by its understanding of the ways in which a total deep rooted commitment to place or to a dream can at once liberate and imprison It is a story of childhood as both Eden and anguish and of growing up as a journey toward the difficult life of the free

Road from Coorain Jill Ker Conway, 2002 The Road from Coorain Jill Ker Conway, 1991 The first woman president of Smith College recalls her Australian outback childhood and her climb into North American academia

The Road from Coorain , A Woman's Education Jill Ker Conway, 2011-06-01 The acclaimed author of the best selling The Road from Coorain and True North now gives us the third book in her remarkable continuing memoir describing the pleasures the challenges and the constant surprises good and bad of her years as the first woman president of Smith College The story opens in 1973 as Conway unbeknownst to her is first looked over as a prospective candidate by members of the Smith community and continues as she assesses her passions and possibilities and agrees to the new challenge of heading the college in 1975 The jolt of energy she gets from being surrounded by several thousand young women enables her to take on the difficulties that arise in dealing with the diverse Smith constituencies from the self appointed protectors of the great male tradition of humanistic learning to the equally determined young feminists insisting on change We see Conway juggling the needs and concerns of faculty students parents trustees and alumnae and re defining and redesigning aspects of the college to create programs in line with the new realities of women s lives We sense the urgency of her efforts to shape an institution that will attract students of the 1990s and beyond Through it all we see Jill Ker Conway coping with her husband s illness and learning to protect and sustain her inner self As the end of a decade at Smith approaches we see her realizing that she has both had her education and made her contributions and that it is time now for her to graduate The Road from Coorain [L] Jill K. Conway,1992 Discussion Notes on Jill Ker Conway's The Road from Coorain Bary Dowling,1993 American Higher Education Transformed, 1940-2005 Wilson Smith,Thomas Bender,2008-04-11 This long awaited sequel to Richard Hofstadter and Wilson Smith s classic anthology American Higher Education A Documentary History presents one hundred and seventy two key edited documents that record the transformation of higher education over the past sixty years The volume includes such seminal documents as Vannevar Bush s 1945 report to President Franklin D Roosevelt Science the Endless Frontier the U S Supreme Court decisions in Brown v Board of Education and Sweezy v New Hampshire and Adrienne Rich s challenging essay Taking Women Students Seriously The wide variety of readings underscores responses of higher education to a memorable often tumultuous half century Colleges and universities faced a transformation of their educational goals institutional structures and curricula and admission policies the ethnic and economic composition of student bodies an expanding social and gender membership in the professoriate their growing allegiance to and dependence on federal and foundation financial aids and even the definitions and defenses of academic freedom Wilson Smith and Thomas Bender have assembled an essential reference for policymakers administrators and all those interested in the history and sociology of higher education Reading Comprehension Camille L. Z. Blachowicz,Donna Ogle,2008-05-05 This practical resource and widely used text presents a wealth of research based approaches to comprehension instruction The authors offer specific classroom practices that help K 9 students compare and evaluate print and online sources develop vocabulary build study and test taking skills and become motivated readers Cambridge IGCSE First Language Coursebook Marian Cox,2009-12-17 Written specifically for the Cambridge syllabus this updated series provides clear and practical support for students and teachers Cambridge IGCSE First Language English Third edition has been written specifically for the University of Cambridge International Examinations syllabus Written by a highly experienced and well known author this new and updated coursebook includes clear practical support for students a diverse range of topical stimulus material to enliven the subject imaginative activities and exam tips that build confidence and develop the skills needed to succeed in the examination Intimate afterlives of empire Astrid Rasch,2025-09-02 Through close readings of almost twenty autobiographies written after the break up of the British Empire the book examines how individuals engage with the changing narrative landscape brought about by decolonisation It considers the autobiographies less for what they may teach us about the moment remembered and more as windows on the act of remembering This adds a crucial dimension to our understanding of the legacies of colonialism and how the ongoing process of decolonisation is reflected on the level of the individual It argues that autobiographers are at once influenced by and seek to influence the cultural memory of empire and its legacies and the authors own position in both Situated at the intersection of imperial decolonisation history memory studies and life writing studies the book uncovers this intimate afterlife of empire

Literature and Ethics Daniel K. Jernigan, 2009 Literature and Ethics covers a wide gamut of literary periods and genres including essays on Victorian literature and modernism as well as several studies on narrative but the central ethos emerges from considerations of issues of responsibility and irresponsibility as they find expression in literary study and in ethics Students and academics who are interested in literary theory ethics narrative form and issues of authorial responsibility and how such matters inform the reading of literary texts will find that this collection offers a wide array of approaches and viewpoints by major figures from the relevant sub disciplines in literary studies The collection offers much timely critical observation on a variety of contemporary authors but also provides critically adventurous commentaries on Victorian literature and on Indian African Irish and Australian literature The volume assembles a collection of essays that would illustrate the great diversity of methods by which considerations of responsibility can and do offer insight into a range of literary texts and theoretical discourses while also making a contribution to the philosophical question of responsibility and irresponsibility in the contemporary world The collection as a whole testifies to the human fascination with issues of responsibility just as it testifies to the necessity of posing questions of responsibility as questions of ethics and literature the necessity of recognizing in other words that responsibility names a concept whose only ground is the history of those fictional narratives of responsibility and irresponsibility that modern civilization would do well to continue inventing and reflecting upon critically So whether ethical discourses find expression in theoretical debate or in and through the sophisticated fictions that constitute an imaginative culture what is clear both from wider discussions related to the value of literary texts that are such a central part of contemporary literary studies and from the varied and nuanced arguments that are made in this collection is that questions of responsibility are central to literature philosophy and the arts just as they are to the social realities that spawned them in the first place Literature and Ethics is an important book for all literature and literary theory collections It has specific resonance for students and teachers who are interested in the value of literary study and in questions of ethics and narrative

Merriam-Webster's Vocabulary Builder Mary W. Cornog, 1998 The ideal book for people who want to increase their word power Thorough coverage of 1 200 words and 240 roots while introducing 2 300 words The Vocabulary Builder is organized by Greek and Latin roots for effective study with nearly 250 new words and roots Includes quizzes after each root discussion to test progress A great study aid for students preparing to take standardized tests

Teacher Education and the Cultural Imagination Susan Florio-Ruane, Julie deTar, 2001-04 Examines use of ethnically diverse published autobiographies in a teacher educ book club course Focuses on autobiography as site of teacher learning about culture role of conversation in that learning Blends personal narrative w analysis descri Artful Histories David McCooey,1996 An important contribution to our understanding of autobiography its history and the Australian experience

An Expressive Arts Approach to Healing Loss and Grief Irene Renzenbrink,2021-06-21 Drawing on expertise in both expressive arts and grief counselling this book highlights the use of expressive arts therapeutic methods in confronting and healing grief and bereavement Establishing a link between these two approaches it widens our understanding of loss and grief With personal and professional insight Renzenbrink illuminates the healing and restorative power of creative arts therapies as well as addressing the impact of communion with others and the role that expressive arts can play in community change Covering a broad understanding of grief the discussion incorporates migration and losing one s home chronic illness and natural disasters highlighting the breadth of types of loss and widening our perceptions of this Grief specialists are given imaginative and nourishing tools to incorporate into their practice and better support their clients An invaluable resource to expand understanding of grief and explore the power of expressive arts to heal both communities and individuals
