comprehensive overview of Russian intellectual history How Russian Literature Became Great Rolf Hellebust, 2024-01-15

How Russian Literature Became Great explores the cultural and political role of a modern national literature orchestrated in a Slavonic key but resonating far beyond Russia's borders. Rolf Hellebust investigates a range of literary tendencies, philosophies, and theories from antiquity to the present: Roman jurisprudence to German Romanticism, French Enlightenment to Czech Structuralism, Herder to Hobsbawm, Samuel Johnson to Sainte Beuve, and so on. Besides the usual Russian suspects from Pushkin to Chekhov, Hellebust includes European writers: Byron and Shelley, Goethe and Schiller, Chateaubriand and Baudelaire, Dante, Mickiewicz, and more. As elsewhere, writing in Russia advertises itself via a canon of literary monuments constituting an atemporal ideal order among themselves. T. S. Eliot. And yet this is a tradition that could only have been born at a specific moment in the golden nineteenth century, age of historiography and nation building. The Russian example reveals the contradictions between immutability and innovation, universality and specificity at the heart of modern conceptions of tradition, from Sainte Beuve through Eliot and down to the present day. The conditions of its era of formation, the prominence of the crucial literary-historical question of the writer's social function, and the equation of literature with national identity make the Russian classical tradition the epitome of a unified cultural text with a complex narrative in which competing stories of progress and decline unfold through the symbolic biographical encounters of the authors who constitute its members. How Russian Literature Became Great thus offers a new paradigm for understanding the paradoxes of modern tradition.

History of Russian Literary Theory and Criticism Evgeny Dobrenko, Galin Tihanov, 2011-11-27 This edited volume assembles the work of leading international scholars in a comprehensive history of Russian literary theory and criticism from 1917 to the post Soviet age By examining the dynamics of literary criticism and theory in three arenas political intellectual and institutional the authors capture the progression and structure of Russian literary criticism and its changing function and discourse The chapters follow early movements such as formalism the Bakhtin Circle Proletkult futurism the fellow travelers and the Russian Association of Proletarian Writers By the cultural revolution of 1928 literary criticism became a mechanism of Soviet policies synchronous with official ideology The chapters follow theory and criticism into the 1930s with examinations of the Union of Soviet Writers semantic paleontology and socialist realism under Stalin A more humanized literary criticism appeared during the ravaging years of World War II only to be supplanted by a return to the party line Soviet heroism and anti-Semitism in the late Stalinist period During Khrushchev's Thaw there was a remarkable rise in liberal literature and criticism that was later refuted in the nationalist movement of the long 1970s The same decade saw on the other hand the rise to prominence of semiotics and structuralism Postmodernism and a strong revival of academic literary studies have shared the stage since the start of the post Soviet era For the first time anywhere this collection analyzes all of the important theorists and major critical movements during a tumultuous ideological period in Russian history including developments in emigre literary theory and criticism The Romantic Period Dmitrij Tschizewskij, 1973

The Cambridge Companion to Modern Russian Culture Nicholas Rzhevsky, 1998 Russia is a dominant force in the world whose culture has been shaped by its unique position on the margins of both East and West As Russia faces new cultural challenges from outside its national boundaries this volume introduces Russian culture in all its rich diversity including the historical conditions that helped shape it and the arts that express its highest achievements Newly commissioned essays by leading scholars explore language religion geography ideological structures folk ethos and popular culture literature music theatre art and film A chronology and guides to further reading are also provided The Companion offers both historical orientation for the central processes of Russian culture and introductory surveys of the arts in their modern context Overall the volume reveals for students academic researchers and all those interested in Russia the dilemmas strengths and complexities of the Russian cultural experience The House in Russian Literature Joost van Baak, 2009-01-01 The domestic theme has a tremendous anthropological literary and cultural significance The purpose of this book is to analyse and interpret the most important realisations and tendencies of this thematic complex in the history of Russian literature It is the first systematic book length exploration of the meaning and development of the House theme in Russian literature of the past 200 years It studies the ideological psychological and moral meanings which Russian cultural and literary tradition have invested in the house or projected on it in literary texts Central to this study's approach is the concept of the House Myth consisting of a set of basic fabular elements and a set of general types of House images This House Myth provides the general point of reference from which the literary works were analyzed and compared With the help of this analytical procedure characteristics of individual authors could be described as well as recurrent patterns and features discerned in the way Russian literature dealt with the House and its thematics thus reflecting characteristics of Russian literary world pictures Russian mentalities and Russian attitudes towards life This book is of interest for students of Russian literature as well as for those interested in the House as a cultural and literary topic in the semiotics of literature and in relations between culture anthropology and literature

On the Spirit of the Times in Russian "Silver Age" Literature and Arts Chen Xiumei, Sun Jiangwen, Wei Haiyan, 2025-03-24 The Silver Age of Russian literature and culture from the late 19th to the early 20th century was marked by a vibrant new wave of poetry that spurred widespread innovation in literature and the arts while also igniting the development of distinctive Russian religious philosophies This book contends that the remarkable achievements of the Silver Age were deeply intertwined with the era's spirit Literature as a reflection of the zeitgeist not only adapted to but also shaped cultural directions with sharp and profound insights thereby authentically mirroring the traits and essence of the era The Silver Age was a period of intellectual blossoming characterized by diverse literary movements and vigorous creativity Literary schools varied thinkers presented unique ideas and artists pioneered new paths all unified in their pursuit of innovation This era's literary and artistic figures embodied a spirit of reform and exploration combining openness and inclusivity with theoretical and practical applications to craft a timeless cultural legacy This era not only concluded the 19th century's Russian culture on a high note but also set a hopeful tone for the 20th century bursting with potential like summer flowers in bloom

Towards the Romantic Age Rudolf Neuhäuser, 2013-10-14 Russian literature between 1750 and the romantic age presents a confusing picture Various literary movements arose and existed side by side while new trends made themselves felt At no other time in the history of Russian literature was there a similar influx of widely disparate literary and intellectual influences from the West The complex evolution of literature is reflected in the area of literary classification Period terms have been used in great variety yet without general agreement as to the extent or even the nature of the trends described The essays of this study are devoted to two major literary trends of the 18th and early 19th century sentimentalism and preromanticism They aim to elucidate their evolution as well as at defining and describing the conceptual framework on which they rest Since the 18th century did not draw a sharp line between translated and original literature both have been included here Literary philosophical and general cultural influences from the West were of considerable importance for Russian literature The concepts motifs and themes which reached Russian writers in translations moulded their own original works The 18th century witnessed the formation of an adequate literary language which culminated in Karamzin's style The distinction of two stages in the development of sentimentalism as suggested here and the differentiation between both of them and a third literary trend preromanticism is an attempt to reflect adequately the rapid change in stylistic and poetic norms
