Thinking Animals Paul Shepard, 2011-07-01 In a world increasingly dominated by human beings the survival of other species becomes more and more questionable In this brilliant book Paul Shepard offers a provocative alternative to an us or them mentality proposing that other species are integral to humanity s evolution and exist at the core of our imagination This trait he argues compels us to think of animals in order to be human Without other living species by which to measure ourselves Shepard warns we would be less mature care less for and be more careless of all life including our own kind

Ecotone Florence R. Shepard, 1994-07-01 Ecotone: Wayfaring on the Margins a personal history of place is written from the perspective of a teacher naturalist and feminist and uses the metaphor of the biological ecotone as the boundary where inner and outer landscapes of the woman nature continuum meet In this book Krall proposes a counter narrative to the usual reading of marginality In autobiographical narrative that rings with experience she describes margins as rich as dynamic abodes places of crossing over and transition as well as spaces of separation and alienation In reinterpreting journeys and encounters she maps the shared terrain of the personal social and natural fields of our lives She draws upon Native American sensibilities about place relationship and the sacred in order to deepen our understanding of human nature bonds to more fully develop respect and responsibility to others and to heal the rifts that sometimes set humans at odds with other humans and non human creatures and threaten life on earth Talking to the Shaman Within Manfred F.
