International Handbook of Comparative Large-Scale Studies in Education Trude Nilsen, Agnes

Stancel-Piatak, Jan-Eric Gustafsson, 2022-09-21 This handbook is the first of its kind to provide a general and comprehensive overview of virtually every aspect of International Large Scale Assessment ILSA It includes historical economic and policy perspectives theoretical foundations methodology and reviews of findings from analyses of ILSA data After decades during which ILSAs have generated knowledge within central areas of education research and gained increased and substantial impact on educational policy practice and research such a broad overview for a wide ranging audience is much needed With contributions from authors and editors from all continents this handbook appeals to an international audience and keeps a neutral perspective not favoring one ILSA over another The handbook is suitable to be read by politicians researchers and stakeholders who are seeking an overview of ILSAs their history and development and both potential benefits and limitations with regard to policy implications The reviews of findings from studies analyzing ILSA data will be of interest to stakeholders teachers researchers and policymakers Considering that the reviews extend to all fields pertaining to educational research the book will be valuable to all researchers interested in education Students may use the book to learn about ILSAs in the context of policy theoretical underpinnings or research Moreover the methodology section is written in a manner that is understandable and accessible for students stakeholders or researchers not familiar with these data This methodology part however is also a valuable resource for researchers who are familiar with ILSA data as it provides overviews of the design and sampling procedures of several ILSAs and includes advice on methods of analysis Even the owners of the ILSAs may find the book valuable as it contains overviews and insights into a number of ILSAs provides information how the data is used by the research community and includes recommendations for future instruments

Literate Lives Amy Seely

Flint, 2007-11-09 Literate Lives Teaching Reading and Writing in Elementary Classrooms invites readers to consider the complexities of the reading process in diverse settings The text is designed to meet the challenges and needs of undergraduate and graduate teacher candidates in elementary education programs helping them to have a better first year in the classroom experience The text introduces teacher candidates to the notion that reading is a complex multi layered process that begins early in a child s life Reading by all accounts is more than decoding symbols on a page While this is one component of the reading process it is important for teacher candidates to see a broader more complete picture of reading. Given the role that reading plays in the elementary school curriculum it is imperative that teachers have a well developed understanding of the reading process and what it means to be a teacher of readers. Literate Lives Teaching Reading and Writing in the Elementary Classroom covers the major theories and application strategies of the reading process as well as current debates in the field using a unique framework that builds upon the following themes: believing that literacy is based in social cultural and historical contexts; assuming an inquiry stance; being problem posers and wondering why; using kidwatching Goodman 1985 as an assessment tool to make informed instructional decisions; recognizing and using the multiple literacies that children bring to the classroom; lingering and reflecting on one's decisions in light of what one knows and believes.

Sense-Making and Shared Meaning in Language and Literacy Education Sharon Murphy, 2020-07-15. This textbook provides a framework for teaching children's language and literacy and introduces research based tactics for teachers to use in designing their literacy programs for children. Exploring how sense making occurs in contemporary literacy practice, Murphy comprehensively covers major topics in literacy including contemporary multimodal literacy practices, classroom discourse, literacy assessment, language and culture, and teacher knowledge. Organized around themes: talk, reading and composing, representation, this book comprehensively invites educators to make sense of their own teaching practices while demonstrating the complexities of how children make sense of and represent meaning in today's world. Grounded in research, this text features a wealth of real world multimodal examples, effective strategies and teaching tactics to apply to any classroom context. Ideal for literacy courses, preservice teachers, teacher educators and literacy scholars, this book illustrates how children become literate in contemporary society and how teachers can create the conditions for children to broaden and deepen their sense making and expressive efforts.

Teaching Early Reading and Phonics Kathy Goouch, Andrew Lambirth, 2016-10-18. Learning to read is an exciting and vital part of every child's development. The new edition of this book continues to provide trainees and teachers with a broad understanding of teaching reading and phonics and equip them with the skills necessary to face the reality of the early years classroom in order to meet the needs of individual children. With vital information on constructing relationships with young readers and how to plan phonics within a rich interactive and playful literacy pedagogy, the second edition now includes a brand new chapter on babies and early reading. More information on language acquisition and how children learn. A discussion of children with SEN. An appreciation for the rise of digital technologies in relation to reading. Whether you're training to become a teacher or already working in the classroom, this book is ideal for those who wish to embed the teaching of phonics into carefully selected high quality materials, particularly in children's literature.

PISA Under Examination Miguel A. Pereyra, Hans-Georg Kotthoff, Robert Cowen, 2012-03-24. From the 23rd to 26th of November 2009 in La Palma island in the Canaries, the Comparative Education Society in Europe (CESE) organized an international symposium entitled PISA under

Examination Changing Knowledge Changing Tests and Changing Schools During four days seventeen leading scholars of Europe and America presented their contributions to debate the different problematiques of the remarkable phenomenon represented by the OECD Programme for International Student Assessment or PISA PISA is not merely an educational event It is also a media circus which involves the public rehearsal for reasons for failure or success and even in some cases public and political and academic explanations about why failure was not really that and why success was not really that either At the centre of all these indications we find the growing influence of international agencies on education and schooling which is decisively contributing to a marketisation of the field of education in the context of an increasingly multilevel and fragmented arena for educational governance based on the formulation the regulation and the transnational coordination and convergence of policies buttressed at the same time by the diffusion of persuasive discursive practice Organized in four sections entitled The Comparative Challenges of the OCDE PISA Programme PISA and School Knowledge The Assessment of PISA School Effectiveness and the Socio cultural Dimension PISA and the Immigrant Student Question and Extreme Visions of PISA Germany and Finland the contributions of this book offers a comprehensive approach of all these challenging and significant issues written from different and distinct research and academic traditions

Health Literacy in Clinical Practice and Public Health R.A. Logan, E.R. Siegel, 2020-06-23 Health literacy is the ultimate global currency of health and well being Without health literacy medicine fails public health fails and people pay the cost for these failures with their lives As this book goes to press the world is confronted by the COVID 19 pandemic Improving health literacy becomes increasingly important if we are to successfully confront the challenges that stress our systems of medicine and public health like never before Richard H Carmona M D M P H FACS former Surgeon General of the United States in his foreword to this book Two years ago HTI published the book Health Literacy New Directions in Research Theory and Practice Together with that earlier volume this book Health Literacy in Clinical Practice and Public Health New Initiatives and Lessons Learned at the Intersection with other Disciplines strives to enumerate and expand our understanding of the multidisciplinary connections which underpin the field of health literacy The book s balance between research and practice is a response to the feedback the editors received about the previous publication which focused more on HL theory and research With reports of specific health literacy research initiatives and interventions particularly in clinical practice and public health the book covers contemporary health literacy research and practice and is divided into three sections Section one explores health literacy s capacity to foster progress in clinical practice and public health section two provides insights into health literacy initiatives and lessons learned from diverse healthcare stakeholders and section three examines health literacy s similarities with and differences from related health research disciplines The book sets the practice and research of health literacy on an evidence based thoughtful effective efficient and applied course As Dr Richard Carmona says in his foreword It is enthusiastically recommended for all health and medical practitioners and researchers
