Emmett Till in Literary Memory and Imagination Harriet Pollack, Christopher Metress, 2008 The horrific 1955 slaying of fourteen year old Emmett Till marks a significant turning point in the history of American race relations An African American boy from Chicago Till was visiting relatives in the Mississippi Delta when he was accused of wolf whistling at a young white woman His murderers abducted him from his great uncle s home beat him then shot him in the head Three days later searchers discovered his body in the Tallahatchie River The two white men charged with his murder received a swift acquittal from an all white jury The eleven essays in Emmett Till in Literary Memory and Imagination examine how the narrative of the Till lynching continues to haunt racial consciousness and to resonate in our collective imagination The trial and acquittal of Till s murderers became in the words of one historian the first great media event of the civil rights movement and since then the lynching has assumed a central place in literary memory The international group of contributors to this volume explores how the Emmett Till story has been fashioned and refashioned in fiction poetry drama and autobiography by writers as diverse as William Bradford Huie James Baldwin Langston Hughes Gwendolyn Brooks Audre Lorde Anne Moody Nicol s Guill n Aim C saire Bebe Moore Campbell and Lewis Nordan They suggest the presence of an Emmett Till narrative deeply embedded in post 1955 literature an overarching recurrent plot that builds on recognizable elements and is as legible

as the lynching narrative or the passing narrative Writers have fashioned Till's story in many ways and the annotated bibliography that ends the volume discusses more than 130 works that memorialize the lynching calling attention to the full extent of Till's presence in literary memory Breaking new ground in civil rights studies and the discussion of race in America Emmett Till in Literary Memory and Imagination eloquently attests to the special power and artistic resonance of one young man's murder

In a Dark Time Joseph Dewey, 1990 What was gunpowder Trivial What was electricity Meaningless This atomic bomb is the Second Coming in wrath Winston Churchill July 1945 Commencing earnestly in the 1960s the American novel began its exploration into how mankind could adjust to life in the shadow of the mushroom cloud how we could begin to think about the Unthinkable American writers faced squarely the age birthed by nuclear physics and found in its very darkness difficult avenues to hope by rediscovering that most potent traditional response to a history in crisis the apocalyptic temper Dewey focuses on seven novels that touch the variety of generic experiments and postures of the post World War II American novel These novels by Vonnegut Coover Percy Pynchon Gaddis and DeLillo represent a significant argument concerning the American literary response to living within the oppressive technologies of the Nuclear Age Departing from other studies that veer toward speculative fiction or toward the more narrowly defined religious angles In a Dark Time defines the apocalyptic temper as a most traditional literary genre that articulates the anxieties of a community in crisis a way for that community to respond to the perception of a history gone critical by turning squarely to that history and to find in that gesture the way toward a genuine hope Dewey's new approach consists of applying the theory of apocalyptic literature to a body of essentially secular writings Dewey resists the traditional approach studying works dealing with nuclear devastation to focus on how a generation of literary responses have dealt with the larger questions about how to live with the recognition of End times Dewey convincingly demonstrates that this literature reminds its moments in history that only in a dark time will the eye begin to see
