Looking Both Ways Art Of The Contemporary African Diaspora:

Cheetham, 2017-07-05 Arguing in favour of renewed critical attention to the nation as a category in art history this study examines the intertwining of art theory national identity and art production in Britain from the early eighteenth century to the present day The book provides the first sustained account of artwriting in the British context over the full extent of its development and includes new analyses of such central figures as Hogarth Reynolds Gilpin Ruskin Roger Fry Herbert Read Art Language Peter Fuller and Rasheed Araeen Mark A Cheetham also explores how the Englishing of art theory which came about despite the longstanding occlusion of the intellectual and theoretical in British culture did not take place or have effects exclusively in Britain Theory has always travelled with art and vice versa Using the frequently resurgent discourse of cosmopolitanism as a frame for his discourse Cheetham asks whether English traditions of artwriting have been judged inappropriately according to imported criteria of what theory is and does This book demonstrates that artwriting in the English tradition has not been sufficiently studied and that English Art Theory is not an oxymoron Such concerns resonate today beyond academe and the art world in the many heated discussions of resurgent Englishness Contemporary British Artists of African Descent and the Unburdening of a Generation Monique Kerman, 2017-10-27 This book explores the notable roles that contemporary British artists of African descent have played in the multicultural context of postwar Britain In four key case studies Magdalene Odundo Veronica Ryan Mary Evans and Maria Amidu Monique Kerman charts their impact through analysis of works activities and exhibitions The author elucidates each of the artists creative response to their unique experience and examines how their work engages with issues of history identity diaspora and the distillation of diverse cultural sources The study also includes a comparative discussion of art broadly defined as black British in order to question assumptions concerning racial and ethnic identities that the artists often negotiate through their works particularly the expectation or burden of representing minority or marginalized communities Readers are thus challenged to unburden the artists herein and celebrate their work on its own terms Curating and the Legacies of Colonialism in Contemporary Iberia Carlos Garrido

Castellano, Bruno Leitão, 2022-06-01 This book provides the first systematic genealogy of postcolonial and decolonial practices emerging from Iberian art spaces The title redefines Iberian Studies through a decolonial lens It expands current debates on curating and contemporary art by exploring how cultural programming has engaged with the legacies and continuities of colonialism in contemporary European societies Wangechi Mutu Wangechi Mutu, 2010 Black women heritage is material tangible and intangible that signifies a culture s history or legacy It has become a venue for contestation ranging in scale from protesting to violently claimed and destroyed But who defines what is to be preserved and what is to be erased As cultural heritage becomes increasingly significant across the world the number of issues for critical analysis and hopefully mediation arise The issue stems from various groups religious ethnic national political and others come together to claim appropriate use exclude or erase markers and manifestations of their own and others cultural heritage as a means for asserting defending or denying critical claims to power land and legitimacy Can cultural heritage be well managed and promoted while at the same time kept within parameters so as to diminish contestation The cases herein range from Greece Spain Egypt the UK Syria Zimbabwe Italy the Balkans Benin and Central America Beauty Unlimited Gregory Velazco
