The Digital Future of English Simone Murray, 2025-07-18 More than any other academic discipline literary studies is the creation of print culture How then can it thrive in the digital era Early 1990s predictions of the book's imminent demise presented a simplistic either/or choice between the legacy of moribund print and triumphalist digital technology Yet we have grown to experience the two media as complexly interdependent and even complementary Clearly digital does not kill print But literary studies in the digital era cannot simply resume business as usual It is urgently necessary to reconsider the discipline's founding assumptions in light of digital technology The digital era prompts a rethinking of literary studies object of study as well as its methods theories audiences and pedagogical practices What counts as literature necessarily shifts in an age of proliferating born digital texts and do it yourself DIY online publication Where should literary studies sit institutionally and how might it graft contextually oriented social sciences methods onto its traditionally humanistic mode of textual analysis Why should literary study continue to marginalize emotional responses to texts when online communities bond via readerly affect Who is the audience for literary criticism in an age where expertise is routinely challenged yet communication with global book loving publics has never been technologically easier Finally how can we utilize digital tools to rejuvenate literary studies pedagogy and help English staff better connect with millennial age students Literary studies has been convulsed for decades by debates over electronic literature and more recently digitally aided distant reading But these discussions still mostly confine themselves to demarcating our proper object of study We need to think more expansively about digital technology's impact on the underpinning tenets of the discipline Literary Media Studies is pitched at fellow literary scholars book historians media theorists cultural sociologists digital humanists and those working at the interface of these converging disciplines It models constructive engagement with contemporary digital culture Most importantly it brings a burst of sorely needed optimism to the question of literary studies digital future The Catholic Reading Circle Review ,1894 Schools and Society Jeanne H. Ballantine,Joan Z. Spade,2008 Presents the most recent theories research terms concepts ideas and histories on educational leadership and school administration as taught in preparation programs and practiced in schools and colleges today How to Read Economic News Henry Silke,Fergal Quinn,Maria Rieder,2023-08-31 Closely examining how the news media reports economic and financial matters this book equips students with solid methodological skills for reading and interpreting the news alongside a toolkit for best practice as an economic journalist How to Read Economic News combines theory and practice to explore the discourse surrounding economics in the mass media and how this specialised form of reporting can be improved Beginning by introducing major concepts such as financialised economic reporting media amnesia and loss of trust the book goes on to help students to interpret understand and analyse existing news discourse and to identify subtle biases in news reports stemming from hegemonic belief systems The final section puts this analytical knowledge into practice providing students with methods for the critical production of news and covering such skills as identifying newsworthiness story sourcing achieving clarity and using complex datasets in news stories This is a key text for students and academics in the fields of financial journalism and critical discourse analysis who wish to approach the subject with a critical eye The Volta Review ,1924 Resources in Education ,1981 Educational Review ,1918 Saturday Review of Literature ,1929 Handbook of the Life Course Jeylan T.
