Campus Sexual Violence Sarah Prior, Brooke de Heer, 2022-09-27 Campus Sexual Violence

A State of Institutionalized Sexual Terrorism conceptualizes sexual violence on college campuses as a form of sexual terrorism arguing that institutional compliance and inaction within the neoliberal university perpetuate a system of sexual terrorism Using a sexual terrorism framework the authors examine a myriad of examples of campus sexual violence with an intersectional lens and explore the role of the institution and the influence of neoliberalism in undermining sexual violence prevention efforts The book utilizes Carole Sheffield's five components of sexual terrorism ideology propaganda amorality perceptions of the perpetrator and voluntary compliance to describe how the ivory tower stereotype and adoption of neoliberal values into education contribute to an environment where victimization is painfully common Cases such as those from Michigan State University and Baylor University are used as examples to highlight institutional culpability and neoliberal value systems within higher education as well as illustrating the pervasiveness of rape culture that contributes to a system of sexual terrorism Crucially the book focuses on systems of inequality and oppression and uses an intersectional perspective that recognizes victimization experienced by multiple marginalized groups including women LGBTQ and racially minoritized people Building on campus violence research and institutional harm research the authors define campus sexual violence as a serious social problem based in structural inequality and advocate for civic responsibility at the institutional level and the development of institutional advocates Weaving together theoretical and practical perspectives the book will be of great interest to students and scholars of sociology criminal justice women's and gender studies social political policy victimology and education It will also be of use to those working in higher education administration and other student life and student health professions
