Global Price Fixing John M. Connor,2007-05-24 I have devoted myself to studying the economic organization of industries for thirty years It has been my good fortune to work at places that tolerated my gadfly approach to research So long as I produced a few publications each year and wooed a few graduate students to share those interests I was free to sample a smorgasbord of economic delights why firms diversify the competitive role of advertising strategies for selling in overseas markets measuring market power and many others Although firmly chored in the eclectic analytical framework of industrial economics and focused on the food system I traversed a wide field at will A decade ago I had pretty much convinced myself that naked price fixing was not a high priority for scholarship True collusion was rife in a few industries such as bid rigging among suppliers of fluid milk to school districts in isolated rural districts Ripping off milk money from school children is reprehensible enough but the size of the economic losses from localized price fixing paled besides other sources of imperfect competition Moreover there were no great policy debates about the wisdom or merits of enforcing the price fixing prohibitions in the Nation s antitrust laws
