Women's Writing of the First World War Emma Liggins, Elizabeth Nolan, 2019-04-10 The First World War was a transformative experience for women facilitating their entry into new spaces and alternative spheres of activity both on the home front and on the edges of danger zones in Europe and beyond The centenary of the conflict is an appropriate moment to reassess what we choose to remember about women's roles and responsibilities in this period and how women recorded their experiences It is timely to re-consider the narratives of women's involvement not only as nurses VADs and mourning mothers but as pacifist campaigners poets war correspondents and contributors to developing genres of war writing This interdisciplinary volume examines women's representations of wartime experience across a wide range of genres including modernist fiction ghost stories utopia poetry life writing and journalism Contributors provide fresh perspectives on women's written responses to the conflict exploring women's war work constructions of femininity and the maternal in wartime and the relationship between feminism suffrage and pacifism The volume reinforces the importance of the retrieval of women's wartime experience urging us to rethink what we choose to commemorate and widening the presence of women in the expanding canon of war writing This book was originally published as a special issue of Women's Writing from literature to art     Bookseller and Stationer, 1921     Exploring Sinophone Liminality in Contemporary Chinese Fiction Di-kai Chao, 2025-05-13 Chao explores Sinophone literature as a complex field that navigates the intersections of Sinitic languages, global literary systems, and China-centered perspectives. He presents an alternative perspective that Sinophone literature, especially through ghost narratives, offers a platform for communities to critically examine modernity, transgress boundaries, and challenge epistemologies. By emphasizing locality, this book critiques the homogenization of knowledge production and highlights the importance of local experiences in shaping Sinophone identity. Questioning the linear, essentialist interpretations of Chineseness, a more fluid understanding, influenced by cultural memory, globalization, and transnational dynamics, emerges. This book advocates for an expanded scope of Sinophone theory that includes the Chinese mainland, moving beyond an anti-diaspora stance. Building upon postcolonialism and historical contexts, it examines literary texts and ghost narratives originating from Taiwan, Hong Kong, Malaysia, and the Chinese mainland, delving into the diversity of Sinophone literature. An excellent read for students, researchers, and scholars interested in Chinese literature, cultural studies, and critical literary work with a focus on Asian studies.
