Deep Learning for Seismic Data Enhancement and Representation Shirui Wang, Wenyi Hu, Xuqing Wu, Jiefu Chen, 2024-12-18 Seismic imaging is a key component of subsurface exploration and it depends on a high quality seismic data acquisition system with effective seismic processing algorithms Seismic data quality concerns various factors such as acquisition design environmental constraints sampling resolution and noises The focus of this book is to investigate efficient seismic data representation and signal enhancement solutions by leveraging the powerful feature engineering capability of deep learning The book delves into seismic data representation and enhancement issues ranging from seismic acquisition design to subsequent quality improvement and compression technologies Given the challenges of obtaining suitable labeled training datasets for seismic data processing problems we concentrate on exploring deep learning approaches that eliminate the need for labels We combined novel deep learning techniques with conventional seismic data processing methods and construct networks and frameworks tailored for seismic data processing The editors and authors of this book come from both academia and industry with hands on experiences in seismic data processing and imaging

International Conference on Laser Materials and Devices. Amitav Mallik,1999 Advances of New Technologies in Seismic Exploration Shaoping Lu,Sanyi Yuan,Lingyun Qiu,Xiang Li,Tie Zhong,Xintong Dong ,Peng Guo,2025-10-01 In the past few decades the geophysics community has proposed a large number of new technologies for seismic exploration to meet the needs of high resolution subsurface imaging These new technologies have made great contributions to advances in seismic exploration and structural geology For instance the appearance of distributed optical fiber acoustic sensing DAS makes it possible to acquire seismic data with high spatial resolution at low cost Advances have been made in full waveform inversion FWI and it is now considered the most robust approach for the reconstruction of subsurface velocity models Multiples which were originally regarded as a common noise are now applied to seismic imaging and accordingly provide extra illumination and least square migration LSM greatly improves illumination and resolution of seismic imaging Deep learning especially the convolutional neural network CNN has shown remarkable performance in seismic noise attenuation interpolation velocity model reconstruction arrival time picking and interpretation Although these new technologies have solved certain real world geophysical issues they still have the following limitations Firstly fiber system noise reduces the quality of seismic data received by DAS restricting its further applications Secondly slow convergence rate and huge computational cost are main bottlenecks faced by iterative seismic inversion approaches such as LSM and FWI Moreover the cycle skipping problem is still a challenging issue in FWI Thirdly the weak generalization of trained models needs to be addressed before deep learning can be implemented widely to solve real world problems Forthly the solution of the anisotropic elastic wave equation needs to be improved for its applications in practice High Performance Computing Philippe Navaux,Carlos J. Barrios H.,Carla Osthoff,Ginés Guerrero,2022-12-20 This book constitutes the proceedings of the 9th Latin American Conference on High Performance Computing CARLA 2022 held in Porto Alegre Brazil in September 2022 The 16 full papers presented in this volume were carefully reviewed and selected from 56 submissions CARLA the Latin American High Performance Computing Conference is an international academic meeting aimed at providing a forum to foster the growth and strength of the High Performance Computing HPC community in Latin
