Richard Flusser:

Mama Dada Sarah Bay-Cheng, 2004-06 Sarah Bay Cheng offers an examination of Gertrude Stein's drama within the history of the theatrical and cinematic avant-garde. Working on the Inside Retta Blaney, 2003 Working on the Inside goes backstage into the inner lives of respected actors like Liam Neeson, Vanessa Williams, Phylicia Rashad, Edward Herrmann, Kristin Chenoweth, and many others to reveal the deep spirituality each one relies on in their lives and work. Marc Blitzstein Leonard Lehrman, 2005-09-30 Marc Blitzstein was one of the 20th century's most important American composers, lyricists, and critics, often credited with having virtually invented opera in the American vernacular. Called the father of American opera in the vernacular by luminaries Aaron Copland and Leonard Bernstein, Blitzstein was a masterful pianist, coach, and accompanist, though ironically he made more money on the lyrics to one song, Mack the Knife, than on everything else he ever did. Blitzstein's brilliant career was cut short in 1964 when he died at the age of 58. This book catalogs Blitzstein's own writings and writings about him, followed by detailed listings, chronological, alphabetical, and genre analysis, a comprehensive performance history, and summaries of all known critiques of his 128 original musical works and 18 texts set to the music of others. Shown in detail are the ways in which Blitzstein took music from his earlier works and developed it in later works, a process that Lehrman utilized in completing with Bernstein's and the Estate's approval 20 Blitzstein works for performance, including The Cradle Will Rock, I've Got the Tune, No for an Answer, Idiot's First, and Sacco and Vanzetti, which Blitzstein believed would be his magnum opus. The book provides a unique and full perspective on the works of one of America's greatest composers, one who deserves to be better known. New York Magazine, 1990-04-02 New York Magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country. With award-winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion, the magazine's consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea. My Road to Radio and The Vocal Scene George Jelinek, 2015-01-09 Born in Ujpest, Hungary, in 1919, George Jelinek began his musical career playing violin with gypsies in the family's garden restaurant. He spent his adolescence doing much the same, honing his talent and enriching his own musical education with frequent trips to the Hungarian Royal Opera House. But when Hitler and Chamberlain signed the Munich Pact in 1938, Jelinek's quiet life was shattered. How the exiled teenager survived World War II, worked his way up from a poor Hungarian immigrant in Cuba and became one of the most important and influential musical administrators in New York, is an unconventional but truly American success story. This memoir documents the inspiring life of George Jelinek, beginning with his childhood in his beloved Hungary. The crisis of World War II soon invaded his life, and leaving behind his family and homeland, he fled west. Having been finally allowed to enter the United States, he was drafted into the U.S. Army in 1942, obligated to bear arms against the country of his birth. This ironic turn of events culminated in his firsthand role in the capture of Ferenc Szalasi the leader of Hungary's Hitlerite faction The latter half of the book reveals how music helped Jellinek piece back together his broken life in America After rising to the post of musical director for radio station WQXR he went on to become the producer and host of The Vocal Scene His 36 years with that program established it as a revered fixture of New York's opera life The epilogue documents the day on which Hungary's president bestowed upon Jellinek the Knight's Cross of the Order of Merit of the Republic of Hungary ICS Music Lecture on Contemporary American Opera William Mayer,1966 New York Magazine,1990-02-19 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine's consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea Designing Cultures of Care Laurene Vaughan,2018-12-27 Designing Cultures of Care brings together an international selection of design researchers who through a variety of design approaches are exploring the ways in which design intersects with cultures of care Unique in its focus and disciplinary diversity this edited collection develops an expanded discourse on the role and contribution of design to our broader social cultural and material challenges Based around a unifying critique of the proposition of care as a theoretical framework for undertaking design research in real world contexts each chapter presents a case study of design research in action This book aims to provide readers both academics and practitioners with insights into the possibilities and challenges of designing cultures of care The disciplines represented in this collection include architecture visual communication participatory and social design service design critical and speculative design interventions and design ethnography These case studies will provide real world insights that have relevance and value to design students at both undergraduate and postgraduate levels and to researchers at all levels within and outside of the academy The Art of the Song Recital Shirlee Emmons,Stanley Sonntag,2001-11-15 Since its original publication the Emmons Sonntag text has continually stood out as the definitive work on the song recital The book presents imaginative advice and practical techniques for producing successful recitals and kindling audience excitement Every aspect of the recital is covered from building programs and the use of acting skills to the relationship between the singer and the accompanist Singers of all levels and backgrounds will benefit from the authors vast experience in the performance of song recitals as a singer accompanist team The comprehensive repertoire lists now organized by voice and instrumentation as well as by composer appeal to both students and professional musicians Readers will agree that the authors have met their goal of providing extensive throughgoing and definitive insights into the attributes that can render the song recital at once a great art and a magnificent entertainment Musical America,1985 Includes Directory Foreign The Opera Directory Anne Ross,1961 Continuator Leonard J. Johnson's drive to Americanize the Met in his first seasons as general manager the impact of the microphone on singers and singing styles and the importance of radio and motion pictures in introducing classical music voices to wider audiences Villamil also considers how travel restrictions imposed on European artists during the war unlocked opportunities for American artists and the role of political and Jewish refugees in enriching music education and training in this country In addition the author discusses thoroughly the founding of the New York City Opera the rise of regional and smaller opera companies including the enterprising and popular Lemonade Opera and advancements for African American classical singers Brimming with entertaining anecdotes and colorful figures both famous and little remembered the fascinating book concludes with an examination of this crucial period's legacy for the American classical music scene in the 1950s and beyond From Johnson's Kids to Lemonade Opera contains an invaluable appendix that provides biographical sketches of the over 250 opera and radio singers as well as art song specialists featured in this illuminating study Verdi's Middle Period Martin
