Textual Entanglements Jacob Haubenreich, 2025-05-15 Textual Entanglements explores how the material processes of writing manifest in the published works of three twentieth century Austrian authors Peter Handke Thomas Bernhard and Rainer Maria Rilke These authors left behind material traces of their writing processes whether in notebooks piles of disorganized typewritten sheets or manuscript fragments The materials do not merely act as containers for their texts They spill into the semantic content of the writing becoming entangled in it The idiosyncratic materials and methods of the writing process do not disappear when the work enters print Examining these material traces Textual Entanglements contends that we cannot fully understand these texts semantic dynamics without considering the material circumstances of their production Jacob Haubenreich reads Handke Bernhard and Rilke to argue that the materiality of textual production opens up a broader semiotic field in which meaning can be created Haubenreich's book offers a theoretical framework and methodological models for integrating analysis of textual materiality into literary analysis in ways that expand the boundaries of literary interpretation

Neoclassical Music in America R. James Tobin, 2014-07-02 From the 1920s to the 1950s neoclassicism was one of the dominant movements in American music Today this music is largely in eclipse mostly absent in performance and even from accounts of music history in spite of and initially because of its adherence to an expanded tonality No previous book has focused on the nature and scope of this musical tradition Neoclassical Music in America Voices of Clarity and Restraint makes clear what neoclassicism was how it emerged in America and what happened to it Music reviewer and scholar R James Tobin argues that efforts to define musical neoclassicism as a style largely fail because of the stylistic diversity of the music that fall within its scope However neoclassicists as different from one another as the influential Igor Stravinsky and Paul Hindemith did have a classical aesthetic in common the basic characteristics of which extend to other neoclassicists This study focuses in particular on a group of interrelated neoclassical American composers who came to full maturity in the 1940s These included Harvard professor Walter Piston who had studied in France in the 1920s Harold Shapero the most traditional of the group Irving Fine and Arthur Berger his colleagues at Brandeis Lukas Foss later an experimentalist composer whose origins lay in neoclassicism of the 1940s Alexei Haieff and Ingolf Dahl both close associates of Stravinsky and others Tobin surveys the careers of these figures drawing especially on early reviews of performances before offering his own critical assessment of individual works Adventurous collectors of recordings performing musicians concert and broadcasting programmers as well as music and cultural historians and those interested in musical aesthetics will find much of interest here Dates of composition approximate duration of individual works and discographies add to the work's reference value

The Classical Music Lover's Companion to Orchestral Music Robert Philip, 2018-12-04 An invaluable guide for lovers of classical music designed to enhance their enjoyment of the core orchestral repertoire from 1700 to 1950 Robert Philip scholar broadcaster and musician has compiled an essential handbook for lovers of classical music designed to enhance their listening experience to the full Covering four hundred works by sixty eight composers from Corelli to Shostakovich this engaging companion explores and unpacks the most frequently performed works including symphonies concertos overtures suites and ballet scores It offers intriguing details about each piece while avoiding technical terminology that might frustrate the non specialist reader Philip identifies key features in each work as well as subtleties and surprises that await the attentive listener and he includes enough background and biographical information to illuminate the composer's intentions Organized alphabetically from Bach to Webern this compendium will be indispensable for classical music enthusiasts whether in the concert hall or enjoying recordings at home
