Sea In The Forest:

From the Forest to the Sea - Public Lands Management and Marine Spatial Planning Morgan Gopnik, 2015-01-09 The management of common pool resources and publicly owned areas is fraught with difficulty This book explores the long complex and frequently contentious history of public lands management in the United States in order to draw lessons for the emerging field of marine spatial planning MSP The author first establishes that these two seemingly different settings are in fact remarkably similar drawing on established theories of policy analysis The work then examines the management of US National Forests over the past 120 years including three place based case studies to discover recurring themes The analysis shows how different management approaches evolved over time in response to changing laws and cultural norms producing outcomes favored by different constituencies This history also reveals the ambiguities and contradictions inherent in multiple use management of any public space Next the book analyzes recent efforts to advance MSP both in the US and globally showing how they mirror past experiences in National Forest management including similar disagreements among stakeholders In conclusion the author suggests how those within ocean related sectors government academia industry and environmental groups might achieve their individual and collective goals more effectively based on lessons from the public lands setting

Forest Vegetation of Northeast Asia Jirí Kolbek, M. Srutek, Elgene E. O. Box, 2013-03-14 When two of us Jifi Kolbek Miroslav Srutek were working in North Korea on the Czech Slovak field expeditions of the early 1990s we did not think initially of comparing our results with the vegetation of surrounding areas or of writing a book Our efforts mainly involved observing and documenting the vegetation as completely as possible and initial recognition of vegetation units At first we focused on the most obvious vegetation types but eventually also any important types that we could discern Later we focused more on forests since almost all of northeastern Asia has forest potential and forests still do form the landscape matrix in most areas First we studied suburban woods and forests most of which are strongly affected by human activities Later though we also had chances to visit and study lovely mountain regions including Myohyang san Kumgang san Su jang san and the high especially beautiful Changbai shan on the border between North Korea and China The Changbai shan is the highest mountain system in the Korean Peninsula including the highest peak

Paektu san We gradually changed our goal from an evaluation of forest data from North Korea to comparison with available field data and literature sources from comparable surrounding areas These include South Korea the Russian Far East northeastern China Manchuria and northern Japan including the Kuril Islands Finally we decided to prepare a preliminary survey of the forest vegetation of the Russian Far East and eventually of all of northeastern Asia which would be published in English
