A Maritime History of Bath, Maine and the Kennebec River

Region William A. Baker, 1973 A Boston Schooner in the Royal Navy, 1768-1772 Phillip Reid, 2023 Uses rare surviving records including fully intact logbooks to situate the customs enforcement interceptor Sultana within the wider picture of the British Atlantic in this crucial period HONORABLE MENTION 2023 Lyman Book Award for North American Naval History The small Boston built schooner Sultana served as a customs enforcement interceptor on the North American eastern seaboard in the period leading up to the American Declaration of Independence when British taxation of American trade was a hugely contentious issue As a typical workaday British American merchant ship taken into naval service Sultana offers a rare opportunity to understand a technology of paramount importance to this world where records for merchant ships are scarce but where in this case a wealth of information from plan drawings to the fully intact logbooks has survived The book provides a detailed narrative of the ship s activities and reveals the nature of life on board and the day to day business of operating a small sailing ship It explores the technology of the ship and her sailing qualities as revealed by the ship s logs and also by the performance of a modern replica In addition the book situates Sultana s role within the wider picture of the British Atlantic in this crucial period It is thereby both naval microhistory and also Atlantic history for all scholars interested in the formation and development of the British Atlantic world

Cultural Economies of the Atlantic World Victoria Barnett-Woods, 2020-04-08 Cultural Economies explores the dynamic intersection of material culture and transatlantic formations of capital in the long eighteenth century It brings together two cutting edge fields of inquiry Material Studies and Atlantic Studies into a generative collection of essays that investigate nuanced ways that capital material culture and differing transatlantic ideologies intersected This ambitious provocative work provides new interpretive critiques and methodological approaches to understanding both the material and the abstract relationships between humans and objects including the objectification of humans in the larger current conversation about capitalism and inevitably power in the Atlantic world Chronologically bracketed by events in the long eighteenth century circum Atlantic these essays employ material case studies from littoral African states to abolitionist North America to Caribbean slavery to medicinal practice in South America providing both broad coverage and nuanced interpretation Holistically Cultural Economies demonstrates that the eighteenth century Atlantic world of capital and materiality was intimately connected to both large and small networks that inform the hemispheric and transatlantic geopolitics of capital and nation of the present day
