The Sound Handbook Tim Crook, 2013-06-17 Tim Crook has written an important and much needed book and its arrival on our shelves has come at a highly appropriate time. Professor Sen Street, Bournemouth University. The Sound Handbook maps theoretical and practical connections between the creation and study of sound across the multi-media spectrum of film, radio, music, sound art, websites, animation and computer games, entertainment and stage theatre. Using an interdisciplinary approach, Tim Crook explores the technologies, philosophies and cultural issues involved in making and experiencing sound, investigating soundscape debates and providing both intellectual and creative production information. The book covers the history, theory and practice of sound and includes practical production projects and a glossary of key terms. The Sound Handbook is supported by a companion website signposted throughout the book with further practical and theoretical resources dedicated to bridging the creation and study of sound across professional platforms and academic disciplines.

Dylan Thomas Walford Davies, 2014-04-15 This critical study covers the whole range of Dylan Thomas's writing, both poetry and prose, in an accessible appraisal of the work and achievement of a major and dynamic poet. It interrelates the man and his national cultural background by defining in detail the Welshness of his poetic temperament and critical attitudes as both man and poet. At the same time it illustrates Thomas's wide knowledge of and impact on the long and varied tradition of poetry in English. In that connection it delineates and delimits Thomas's relationship to surrealism, compares and contrasts his work with that of other poets of the 1930s and 1940s and shows how its power survives his early death in 1953 in the decade of the Movement poets and beyond. A major aspect of this book is the close textual analysis of the works quoted; it explores anew the recognition due to the man who wrote the work and helps us to separate the intrinsic achievement of the work from the foisted perceptions of the legend.
