Management Challenges for Africa in the Twenty-First Century Felix M. Edoho, 2000-12-30 Edoho and his contributors examine the management challenges facing African governments and businesses on the eve of a new millennium As the authors make clear Africa s future is defined by how Africa does in the 21st century For Africa a major challenge is how to effectively and efficiently manage its vast wealth Africa is not poor because it is poor it is poor because it cannot manage its development process The shortages of managerial knowledge skills and talents are pervasive Consequently the region lacks the ability to organize production and run operations effectively and efficiently The task of developing managerial manpower in Africa is not only imperative it is urgent After outlining theoretical and applied perspectives on management the volume examines the public and private sector planning and management It then explores the globalization of management technology provides case studies of African management dilemmas looks at management ethics and morality and concludes with an analysis of the role of management in African national development As the authors make clear abundant resources will not of themselves usher in an African economic renaissance Africa needs skills to identify and analyze its resources to undertake investment and to establish and run all kinds of organizations Until Africa develops its indigenous managerial talents development will continue to be elusive and the process traumatizing An important resource for scholars students and policy makers involved with African economic development

Implementing Deeper Learning and 21st Century Education Reforms Fernando M.

Reimers,2020-11-04 This open access book is a comparative analysis of recent large scale education reforms that broadened curriculum goals to better prepare students for the 21st century The book examines what governments actually do when they broaden curriculum goals with attention to the details of implementation To this end the book examines system level reforms in six countries at various levels of development The study includes system level reforms in jurisdictions where students achieve high levels in international assessments of basic literacies such as Singapore and Ontario Canada as well as in nations where students achieve much lower levels such as Kenya Mexico Punjab Pakistan and Zimbabwe The chapters examine system level reforms that focus on strengthening the capacity to teach the basics as in Ontario and Pakistan as well as reforms that aim at building the capacity to teach a much broader set of competencies and skills such as Kenya Mexico Singapore and Zimbabwe The volume includes systems at very different levels of spending per student and reforms at various points in the cycle of policy implementation some just starting some struggling to survive a governmental transition and others that have been in place for an extended period of time From the comparative study of these reforms we aim to provide an understanding of how to build the capacity of education systems to teach 21st century skills at scale in diverse settings

Learning and Teaching for the Twenty-First Century Rupert Maclean,2007-10-12 Phillip Hughes International Educator Scholar Teacher This Festschrift is published in honour of Professor Phillip Hughes an exceptional Australian educationalist and influential member of the international education community Professor Hughes has made major important contributions to the advancement of education and schooling both in Australia and in various developing countries throughout the world the latter being mainly through his work for UNESCO I first met Phillip Hughes in 1980 when he took up an appointment as Professor and Head of the Department of Teacher Education in the Faculty of Education University of Tasmania Hobart I was a Faculty staff member and even before I first met Phillip in person I felt that I already knew him very well from his numerous publications and keynote presentations at major conferences Prior to returning to his native Tasmania Phillip's reputation was already well established as a national and international leader in education and as a highly respected and influential member of the Tasmanian community

School Leadership in the Caribbean Paul Miller,2013-05-06 Successful school leadership is an issue currently being debated up and down Caribbean territories Key issues in the ongoing debate include students outcomes and participation in the regional Caribbean Secondary Examinations CSEC teacher recruitment and retention teacher training and continuing professional development upgrading and parental involvement These issues point to leadership at various levels whether in its exercise or in its influence and are examined within and across national and regional education systems Particular attention is given to debates around improving outcomes for students teacher development and the role of the principal in leading school improvement A source of debate about practice of school leadership in the Caribbean surrounds the issue of gender Where are men in teaching Where are men in leadership positions and positions of responsibility Unlike in some countries where for example men tend to hold more leadership positions than women especially at the secondary phase of education in the Caribbean this is not the case there are more female teachers at every level and more female teachers occupy leadership positions at every level Within this book gendered leadership as practised and enacted in the Caribbean is examined from religious social historical and political positions pointing to a clear political dichotomy There is no unitary definition of what can count as school leadership in the Caribbean despite clear similarities of practices and approaches What this volume argues however is that within the Caribbean region there are many similarities of experience for the practice and exercise of school leadership which draw on a common framework of teacher training a common language and a common socio political history that existed well before the formation of CARICOM through British colonisation This book does not dwell on the period of British colonisation but discusses the extent to which this period in Caribbean history has influenced the practice of school leadership today most notably in areas such as curricular and teacher training models Education in emergency situations such teaching and learning in severe weather conditions such as hurricanes is also spotlighted As a whole the themes in this edited volume proffer an evidence based approach to contemporary issues in school leadership in the Caribbean and extend the current literature in the field Personalizing 21st Century Education Dan Domenech, Morton Sherman, John L. The Challenges for New Principals in the 21st Century Bruce G. Barnett, Autumn K. Tooms, Alan R. Shoho, 2010-09-01 This book series International Research on School Leadership focuses on how present day issues affect the theory and practice of school leadership For this inaugural book we focused on the challenges facing new principals and headteachers Because the professional lives of school leaders have increasingly impinged on their personal well being and resources have continued to shrink it is important to understand how new principals or headteachers share and divide their energy ideas and time within the school day It is also important to discover ways to provide professional development and support for new principals and headteachers as they strive to lead their schools in the 21st century For these reasons this book is dedicated to exploring the rarely examined experiences of those who enter the role as new principals or headteachers By giving voice to new principals and headteachers we are able to determine what aspects of leadership preparation ring true and what aspects prove to be of little or no utility Unlike leadership texts that have focused on conceptual considerations and personal narratives from the field this book focuses on a collection of empirical efforts centered on the challenges and issues that new principals and headteachers experience during their initial and crucial years of induction We solicited and accepted manuscripts that explore the multi faceted dimensions of being a new principal or headteacher in the 21st century Our goal was to create an edited book that examines the commonalities and differences that new principals and headteachers experience from an international perspective This edited book is comprised of six chapters each of which contributes a unique perspective on the responsibilities that new principals and headteachers are experiencing at the dawn of the 21st century

China's Higher Education Reform and Internationalisation Janette Ryan,2011-03-07 Despite radical and fundamental reform of the Chinese higher education system very little is known about this outside China The past decade has seen radical reform of all levels of China s education system as it attempts to meet changing economic and social needs and aspirations this has included transformation of university curricula pedagogy and evaluation measures rapidly increasing joint research and degree programmes between Chinese universities and universities abroad and very large numbers of Chinese students studying at universities outside China This book describes the historical cultural intellectual and contemporary background and contexts of the reform and internationalisation of higher education in China It discusses these changes outlines the challenges posed by the changes for university administrators faculty researchers students and those working with Chinese academics and students in China and abroad and assesses the impact and evaluates the success of the changes Most importantly it considers how this mobility of people and ideas across educational systems and cultures can contribute to new ways of working and understanding between Western and Chinese academic cultures The book is a companion to Education Reform in China which focuses on reform at the early childhood primary and secondary levels
