Managing Business Relationships

David Ford, Lars-Erik Gadde, Hakan Hakansson, Ivan Snehota, 2011-09-26 No company is an island in the world of business. Each company is locked into a complex network of relationships with its customers, suppliers, and other counterparts. What happens in these relationships is critical to the success of any business. Managing a company's relationships and its position in the network is a central but often misunderstood aspect of business. This new edition of Managing Business Relationships aims to help managers and students understand the reality of business networks and how to manage in them. It has been entirely rewritten to include the latest thinking and research from the IMP Industrial Marketing and Purchasing Group and includes new chapters on Intermediation in Business Networks, the Economics of Business Relationships, and the Practice of Business Networking. Features: Provides a structured way to understand business networks and their meaning for the practicing manager. Offers a complete analysis of management in different relationships, including those with customers, suppliers, distributors, and development counterparts. Presents a practical analysis of the problems and choices that managers face in developing and changing their relationships, and a guide to the critical skills of business networking. New Directions in Management and Organization Theory Jeffrey A. Miles, 2014-03-25 This book is a collection of the best seventeen papers from the first Management Theory Conference held at the University of the Pacific in San Francisco, California, on September 27 and 28, 2013. The authors of these papers are some of the best management researchers in the world, including Anette Mikes, Robert S. Kaplan, and Amy C. Edmondson (Harvard Business School); Sarah Harvey (University College London); Randall S. Peterson (London Business School); Jack A. Goncalo and Verena Krause (Cornell University); Karen A. Jehn (University of Melbourne); Yally Avraampour (London School of Economics and Political Science); Tammy L. Madsen (Santa Clara University); and Sim B. Sitkin (Duke University). All of the papers in this book present the latest theoretical developments that were discussed at the first Management Theory Conference. The purpose of the conference was to help address the shortage of new management and organization theories. The mission of the conference was to facilitate, recognize, and reward the creation of new theories that advance our understanding of management and organizations. The conference was held to motivate management researchers to create new theories and to provide researchers with a supportive forum where those new theories could be presented, discussed, and published. Chapter Seventeen is the winner of the Wiley Outstanding New Management Theory Award. Authors Chris P. Long, Sim B. Sitkin, and Laura B. Cardinal present a theory to explain the drivers of managerial efforts to promote trust, fairness, and control. They theorize how superior-subordinate conflicts stimulate managers' concerns about managerial legitimacy and subordinate dependability in performing tasks and hypothesize how managers attempt to address these concerns using trustworthiness, promotion, fairness, promotion, and control activities. This book also contains written summaries of the two keynote addresses that were given at the conference by Roy Suddaby, editor.

of Academy of Management Review and Jeffrey Pfeffer Stanford University which comprise Chapters Eighteen and Nineteen Professors Suddaby and Pfeffer present a fascinating debate of the future and new directions of management and organization theories
