The Monumental Nation Bálint Varga, 2016-12-01 From the 1860s onward Habsburg Hungary attempted a massive project of cultural assimilation to impose a unified national identity on its diverse populations In one of the more quixotic episodes in this Magyarization large monuments were erected near small towns commemorating the medieval conquest of the Carpathian Basin supposedly the moment when the Hungarian nation was born This exactly researched study recounts the troubled history of this plan which far from cultivating national pride provoked resistance and even hostility among provincial Hungarians Author Bálint Varga thus reframes the narrative of nineteenth century nationalism demonstrating the complex relationship between local and national memories

Blood Inscriptions Hillel J. Kieval, 2022-02-15 Although the Enlightenment had seemed to bring an end to the widely held belief that Jews murdered Christian children for ritual purposes charges of the so called blood libel were surprisingly widespread in central and eastern Europe on either side of the turn to the twentieth century Well over one hundred accusations were made against Jews in this period and prosecutors and government officials in Germany Austria Hungary and Russia broke with long established precedent to bring six of these cases forward in sensational public trials In Blood Inscriptions Hillel J Kieval examines four cases the prosecutions that took place at Tiszaeszlár in Hungary 1882-83 Xanten in Germany 1891-92 Pölitz in Austrian Bohemia 1899-1900 and Konitz then Germany now in Poland 1900-1902 to consider the means by which discredited beliefs came to seem once again plausible Kieval explores how educated elites took up the accusations of Jewish ritual murder and considers the roles played by government bureaucracies the journalistic establishment forensic medicine and advanced legal practices in structuring the investigations and trials The prosecutors judges forensic scientists criminologists and academic scholars of Judaism and other expert witnesses all worked hard to establish their epistemological authority as rationalists Kieval contends Far from being a throwback to the Middle Ages these ritual murder trials were in all respects a product of post Enlightenment politics and culture Harnessed to and disciplined by the rhetoric of modernity they were able to proceed precisely because they were framed by the idioms of scientific discourse and rationality Written in Stone Sanford Levinson, 2018-10-04 Twentieth Anniversary Edition with a new preface and afterword From the removal of Confederate monuments in New Orleans in the spring of 2017 to the violent aftermath of the white nationalist march on the Robert E Lee monument in Charlottesville later that summer debates and conflicts over the memorialization of Confederate heroes have stormed to the forefront of popular American political and cultural discourse In Written in Stone Sanford Levinson considers the tangled responses to controversial monuments and commemorations while examining how those with political power configure public spaces in ways that shape public memory and politics Paying particular attention to the American South though drawing examples as well from elsewhere in the United States and throughout the world Levinson shows how the social and legal arguments regarding the display construction modification and destruction of public monuments mark the seemingly endless confrontation over the symbolism attached to public space This twentieth anniversary edition of Written in Stone includes a new preface and an extensive afterword that takes account of recent events in cities schools and universities and public spaces throughout the United States and elsewhere Twenty years on Levinson's work is more timely and relevant than ever
