Tools for Matching Readers to Texts Heidi Anne E. Mesmer,2008-01-01 A guide to the different systems for determining text difficulty offers a review of recently developed applications such as Lexiles as well as traditional readability formulas and systems for beginning readers and coverage of two electronic book matching programs Accelerated Reader and Reading Counts Spectroscopy: The Key to the Stars Keith Robinson,2007-08-15 While most amateur astronomers know about the red shift have a general idea of the way that the emission and absorption lines in stellar spectra provide an insight into the atomic processes of the star it is unusual to find someone who has any kind of detailed knowledge The reason isn t lack on interest far from it but is because all the books currently available are pitched at professional astronomers and degree students and are to say the least difficult to read This is the first non technical book on this subject written specifically for practical amateur astronomers It includes all the science necessary for a qualitative understanding of stellar spectra but avoids a mathematical treatment which would alienate many of its intended readers Any amateur astronomer who carries out or who is interested in observational spectroscopy and who wants a non technical account of the physical processes which determine the intensity and profile morphology of lines in stellar spectra will find this is the only book written specially for him And of course armchair astronomers who simply want to understand the physical processes which shape lines in stellar spectra will find this book equally fascinating
