Paolo Da Venezia Michelangelo Muraro, 1975 , The Art of Renaissance Venice Norbert Huse, Wolfgang Wolters, 1993-10-30 Norbert Huse and Wolfgang Wolters provide the first contemporary single volume survey of the three arts of Venice painting sculpture and architecture They offer an important counterbalance to the traditional orientation toward painting as the city's preeminent art by focusing on architecture as the essential Venetian artistic medium In the process they define the distinctly Venetian terms by which the city and culture should be understood Huse and Wolters begin their study with 1460 when Venice was one of the key powers of Italy and end their discussion with the death of Tintoretto in 1594 a period of waning international power Wolfgang Wolters outlines the city's development and presents a typological survey of Venetian architecture A review of sculptors and their works follows Norbert Huse opens the next section on painting by describing the changed situation of painters at the end of the fifteenth century He explores the different forms and functions of Venetian paintings in three distinct periods With over three hundred illustrations and an exhaustive bibliography this volume successfully fills a gap in art historical scholarship From publisher's description

The Painter Angelos and Icon-Painting in Venetian Crete Maria Vassilaki, 2023-04-28 The sixteen studies in this book include six specially translated from Greek and another two published here for the first time They deal with the art of painting in Crete at a time when the island was under Venetian rule The main emphasis is on the 15th century and especially on the painter Angelos More than thirty icons with his signature survive and at least twenty more can be reliably attributed to him Angelos was the most significant artist of a particularly significant era It was at this time that the centre of artistic production migrated from Constantinople the capital of the Byzantine Empire to Candia the capital of Venetian occupied Crete These studies try to reconstruct the personality of this late Byzantine painter Angelos not only through his icons but also through his will 1436 now in the State Archives in Venice In this context they also explore the status of the Cretan painter in society The large number of extant Cretan icons clearly indicates the striking increase in production from the 15th century onwards Similarly archival documents are used to examine the trade of icons in Crete and the way Cretan artists had to organize their workshops in order to meet the requirements of the market The Grove Encyclopedia of Medieval Art and Architecture Colum Hourihane,2012 This volume offers unparalleled coverage of all aspects of art and architecture from medieval Western Europe from the 6th century to the early 16th century Drawing upon the expansive scholarship in the celebrated Grove Dictionary of Art and adding hundreds of new entries it offers students researchers and the general public a reliable up to date and convenient resource covering this field of major importance in the development of Western history and international art and architecture The Venetian School of Painting Evelyn March Phillipps,1912 The cicerone: or, Art guide to painting in Italy, ed. by A. von Zahn, tr. by mrs.
