Problem Of Space In Jewish Medieval Philosophy:

The Problem of Space in Jewish Mediaeval Philosophy, 1916 New Directions in Jewish Philosophy Aaron W. Hughes, Elliot R. Wolfson, 2010 Breaking with strictly historical or textual perspectives this book explores Jewish philosophy as philosophy Often regarded as too technical for Judaic studies and too religious for philosophy departments Jewish philosophy has had an ambiguous position in the academy These provocative essays propose new models for the study of Jewish philosophy that embrace wider intellectual arenas including linguistics poetics aesthetics and visual culture as a path toward understanding the particular philosophic concerns of Judaism As they reread classic Jewish texts the essays articulate a new set of questions and demonstrate the vitality and originality of Jewish philosophy Problem of Space in Jewish Medieval Philosophy Israel I. A History of Jewish Philosophy in the Middle Ages Colette Sirat, 1990-11-30 Jewish medieval philosophy has formed the subject of much research over the past thirty years since the appearance of Gutmann's Philosophies of Judaism resulting in greater understanding and a new need for summation This important work now available in paperback aims to supply that need and devotes ample discussion to the major figures of the period like Saadiah Gaon Maimonides Abraham Ibn Ezra and Judah Halevi It also gives much attention to the discussion and presentation of texts by lesser known authors clustering around the greater men and movements The Harvard Theological Review, 1919 A Comparative History of World Philosophy Ben-Ami Scharfstein, 1998-01-01 Breaks through the cultural barriers between Western Indian and Chinese philosophy and demonstrates that despite considerable differences between these three great philosophical traditions there are fundamental resemblances in their abstract principles The Problem of Space in Jewish Mediaeval Philosophy \(Classic Reprint\) Israel Isaac Efros, 2016-09-23 Excerpt from The Problem of Space in Jewish Mediaeval Philosophy Such are the difficulties which present themselves in connexion with the notion of space The deeper the mind delves into the problem the greater the tangle It is one of the sphinxes in the deserts of thought From the dawn of Speculation we find Space to be one of the most prominent objects of investigation Zeno Plato and Aristotle bent their great intellects on the solution of space colossal systems of science were reared on the notion of space Yet the meaning of space has remained a mystery till the present day Indeed the difficulties seem to increase with the time It would be preposterous of course to claim that the Jews were cognizant of all these difficulties that the modern era has introduced If we turn to examine the views on space maintained by the two greatest of Greek thinkers who had such an enormous influence on Jewish thought we will get a notion of the type of problems that we will have to deal with in the following chapters In addition it will present us the sources and the starting point for the views that are to be discussed in this study About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the

The effort to create a serious Hebrew literature in the United States in the years around World War I is one of the best kept secrets of American Jewish history Hebrew had been revived as a modern literary language in nineteenth century Russia and then taken to Palestine as part of the Zionist revolution But the overwhelming majority of Jewish emigrants from Eastern Europe settled in America and a passionate kernel among them believed that Hebrew provided the vehicle for modernizing the Jewish people while maintaining their connection to Zion These American Hebraists created schools journals newspapers and most of all a high literary culture focused on producing poetry Sanctuary in the Wilderness is a critical introduction to American Hebrew poetry focusing on a dozen key poets This secular poetry began with a preoccupation with the situation of the individual in a disenchanted world and then moved outward to engage American vistas and Jewish fate and hope in midcentury American Hebrew poets hoped to be read in both Palestine and America but were disappointed on both scores Several moved to Israel and connected with the vital literary scene there but most stayed and persisted in the cause of American Hebraism The Dial Francis Fisher Browne,Waldo Ralph Browne,Scofield Thayer,1918
