

POETRY

JANUARY

Lea / John

Sydney Lea, editor of New England Review, received in 1979 a Bread Loaf Fellowship in Poetry. He has taught English and creative writing at Dartmouth, Yale, and Middlebury.

Sydney Lea's poetry resonates with images and themes drawn from nature, from the revelations of memory, and from an abiding affection for friends and relations. Notable for its hardheaded responses to the natural world of New England, and for its careful attention to the formal properties of verse, these poems form an encompassing elegy whose principal theme is the possibility of regeneration.

"The poems of Sydney Lea create, even in their apparent unambitiousness, a coherent and heart-touching world. Mr. Lea converts factuality into a poetry of depth (an attempt that has become a fashion but that usually fails), small observations into something as deep as ritual. He is a poet who knows where to find the poetry that suits his nature—and a poetry of which we would not be happily deprived. He has the subtlety of mind, emotion, and ear to achieve this in a genre in which many fail."—Robert Penn Warren

"Frost has said that what finally saves poetry from prose is the speaking some of voice somehow entangled in the words. In his first full volume, Sydney Lea's strong narrative voice is so entangled in his language that what we nominally call naturalism—raw-barked and rough—takes on new value; Lea's poems live at the level at which lyricism is crowded with the daily lives of those who will not or cannot speak for themselves—the doomed, the disenfranchised, the local dead. That is why, in his most vocal, his love ethic is indistinguishable from his elegy. He embraces what he cannot change."—Stanley Plumly
