Gabbard,2007 A staple of psychiatric practice this edition reflects clinical expertise in an accessible volume It covers all major treatments in psychiatry linked to specific disorders with a pluralistic approach including all major treatment modalities Each chapter has been completely updated and is organized along the lines of DSM IV TR Working with the Person with Schizophrenia Michael Selzer,1989-12 The person with schizophrenia poses a formidable challenge even to the experienced clinician Bizarre unpredictable behavior disordered thought patterns peculiar even unintelligible speech and extreme distrust can drastically limit the clinician s ability to conduct therapy It is often seemingly impossible to determine the cause of these behaviors Are they a result of the disease the side effects of drugs or the patient s efforts to cope In this brilliant and insightful book Dr Michael Selzer and his colleagues offer a radical new perspective on understanding and treating the schizophrenic person What is often lacking they argue is a clear understanding of the patient s own experience of his world Without a realistic appraisal of the patient s physiological and psychological vulnerabilities the effect of various stresses on him and his own unique adaptation to these circumstances no effective drug or psychotherapeutic treatment intervention is possible This thoughtful intelligent and acutely perceptive book is a major breakthrough for working with persons with schizophrenia The authors have shown that therapy with the schizophrenic person is not only possible but highly rewarding

Comprehensive Casebook of Cognitive Therapy Frank M. Dattilio, 2013-06-29 This is the golden age of cognitive therapy Its popularity among society and the professional community is growing by leaps and bounds What is it and what are its limits What is the fundamental nature of cognitive therapy It is to my way of thinking simple but profound To understand it it is useful to think back to the history of behavior therapy to the basic development made by Joseph Wolpe In the 1950s Wolpe astounded the therapeutic world and infuriated his colleagues by finding a simple cure for phobias The psychoanalytic establishment held that phobias irrational and intense fear of certain objects such as cats were just surface manifestations of deeper underlying disorders The psychoanalysts said their source was the buried fear in male children of castration by the father in retaliation for the son's lust for his mother For females this fear is directed toward the opposite sex parent The biomedical theorists on the other hand claimed that some as yet undiscovered disorder in brain chemistry must be the underlying problem Both groups insisted that to treat only the patient's fear of cats would do no more good than it would to put rouge over measles Wolpe however reasoned that irrational fear of something isn't just a symptom of a phobia it is the whole phobia
