Charles James Lever, 2017-09-12. Excerpt from Lord Kilgobbin. Fringing this broad waste little patches of cultivation are to be seen small potato gardens as they are called or a few roods of oats green even in the late autumn but strangely enough with nothing to show where the humble tiller of the soil was living nor often any visible road to these isolated spots of culture. Gradually however but very gradually the prospect brightens. Fields with enclosures and a cabin or two are to be met with a solitary tree generally an ash will be seen some rude instrument of husbandry or an ass cart will show that we are emerging from the region of complete destitution and approach a land of at least struggling civilization. At last and by a transition that is not always easy to mark the scene glides into those rich pasture lands and well tilled farms that form the wealth of the Midland Counties. Gentlemen's seats and waving plantations succeed and we are in a country of comfort and abundance. About the Publisher. Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books. in Our Own Time Charles James Leve,1878 Lord Kilgobbin Charles James Lever,2016-06-21 Some one has said that almost all that Ireland possesses of picturesque beauty is to be found on or in the immediate neighbourhood of the seaboard and if we except some brief patches of river scenery on the Nore and the Blackwater and a part of Lough Erne the assertion is not devoid of truth The dreary expanse called the Bog of Allen which occupies a tableland in the centre of the island stretches away for miles flat sad coloured and monotonous fissured in every direction by channels of dark tinted water in which the very fish take the same sad colour This tract is almost without trace of habitation save where at distant intervals utter destitution has raised a mud hovel undistinguishable from the hillocks of turf around it Lord Kilgobbin
