Berg,Mary Catherine Hager,2017-11-06 Access Is Capture Roderic N Crooks,2024-09-03 Racially and economically segregated schools across the United States have hosted many interventions from commercial digital education technology edtech companies who promise their products will rectify the failures of public education Edtech s benefits are not only trumpeted by industry promoters and evangelists but also vigorously pursued by experts educators students and teachers Why then has edtech yet to make good on its promises In Access Is Capture Roderic

N Crooks investigates how edtech functions in Los Angeles public schools that exclusively serve Latinx and Black communities These so called urban schools are sites of intense ongoing technological transformation where the tantalizing possibilities of access to computing meet the realities of structural inequality Crooks shows how data intensive edtech delivers value to privileged individuals and commercial organizations but never to the communities that hope to share in the benefits He persuasively argues that data drivenness ultimately enjoins the public to participate in a racial project marked by the extraction of capital from minoritized communities to enrich the tech sector
