Lost Highway:

Lost Highway Richard Currey, 2005 Richard Currey's Lost Highway has attracted a legion of admirers since its initial publication in 1997. The book depicts the epic struggle of an ordinary person living his dreams and following his passion. Lost Highway is the story of Sapper Reeves, a gifted country musician from the small town of Maxwell, West Virginia. Sapper's story covers the events of more than half a century from his birth in a poor coal mining town through his travels on the back roads of Appalachia in search of recognition and respect. Along the way, Sapper's embattled love for his wife and struggle to come to terms with his combat-wounded son form the basis of his artistic and personal redemption. Lost highway David

Lynch, Barry Gifford, 1997 The Architecture of David Lynch Richard Martin, 2014-10-23 From the Red Room in Twin Peaks to Club Silencio in Mulholland Drive, the work of David Lynch contains some of the most remarkable spaces in contemporary culture. Richard Martin's compelling study is the first sustained critical assessment of the role architecture and design play in Lynch's films. Martin combines original research at Lynchian locations in Los Angeles, London, and L. dz with insights from architects including Adolf Loos, Le Corbusier, and Jean Nouvel, and urban theorists such as Jane Jacobs and Edward Soja. In analyzing the towns, cities, homes, roads, and stages found in Lynch's work, Martin not only reveals their central importance for understanding this controversial and distinctive film maker but also suggests how Lynch's films can provide a deeper understanding of the places and spaces in which we live. Film as Philosophy Bernd

Herzogenrath, 2017-03-21 Film and philosophy have much in common, and books have been written on film and philosophy. But can films be or do philosophy? Can they think? Film as Philosophy is the first book to explore this fascinating question historically, thematically, and methodically. Bringing together leading scholars from universities across the globe, Film as Philosophy presents major new research that leads film studies and philosophy into a productive dialogue. It provides a uniquely sweeping historical overview of the confluence of film and philosophy for more than a century, considering films from Jean Renoir, Lars von Trier, J. rgen Leth, David Lynch, Michael Haneke, and others; the written works of filmmakers who also theorized on the medium, including Sergei Eisenstein and Jean Epstein; and others who have written on cinema, including Hugo Münsterberg, Béla Balázs, André Bazin, Henri Bergson, Gilles Deleuze, Stanley Cavell, Alain Badiou, Jacques Rancière, and many more. Representing a major step toward establishing a media philosophy that puts the status, role, and function of film into a new perspective, Film as Philosophy removes representational techniques from the center of inquiry, replacing these with the medium's ability to think. Hence, it accords film with agency, and the dialogue between it and philosophy, and even neuroscience, is negotiated anew. Texture In Film Lucy Fife Donaldson,2014-08-13 Drawing on interdisciplinary perspectives of art literature and music Donaldson develops a stimulating understanding of a concept that has received little detailed attention in relation to film Based in close analysis Texture in Film brings discussion of style and affect together in a selection of case studies drawn from American cinema The Oneiric in the Films of David Lynch Raphael Morschett,2024-06-27 The Oneiric in the Films of David Lynch is the first systematic book length study to explore the nature and function of dreams in David Lynch s different phases and audio visual formats There is hardly a contemporary film director whose name is as closely linked to the dream like as that of David Lynch Both popular and academic discourse frequently identify Lynch s films by their dreamlike qualities However in the existing literature on Lynch these qualities tend to remain underspecified in terms of their experiential dimension Departing from an interest in the phenomenon of dream experience this is the first systematic book length study exploring the nature and function of the oneiric in the director s different phases and audio visual formats It shows that over the course of 50 years Lynch has developed a cinematic aesthetics of the oneiric an ensemble of four dream related dimensions that unfolds its full potential in the dynamic interplay between sensory address and reflective medialization On the one hand the Lynchian oneiric presents a markedly sensory perceptual mode of experience both characters and viewers are challenged in their perceptual patterns while at the same time being immersed in the material dream scenario On the other hand the Lynchian oneiric provides a mode of both psychological and medial reflection Not only the characters but the films themselves are inclined to turn back on themselves in a dream exploring the preconditions possibilities and limitations of their own existence and ability to know the world The oneiric in Lynch s films is thus of phenomenological media theoretical and philosophical interest Pulling Focus Jane Stadler, 2008-09-15 The most powerful films have an afterlife. Their sensory appeal and their capacity to elicit involvement in story character and conflict reaches beyond the screen to subtly reframe the way spectators view ethical issues and agents within the narrative and in the world outside the cinema. Pulling Focus: Intersubjective Experience and Narrative Film questions how cinematic narratives relate to and affect ethical life. Extending Martha Nussbaum and Wayne Booth's work on moral philosophy and literature to consider cinema, Dr Stadler shows that film spectatorship can be understood as a model for ethical attention that engages the audience in an affective relationship with characters and their values. Building on Vivian Sobchack's Address of the Eye and Carnal Thoughts, she uses a phenomenological approach to analyse ethical dimensions of film extending beyond narrative content, arguing that the camera describes experience and views screen characters with an evaluative form of perception: an ethical gaze in which spectators participate. Films discussed include Dead Man Walking, Lost Highway, Batman Begins, Nil By Mouth and Eternal Sunshine of the Spotless Mind.

David Lynch Justus Nieland, 2012-04-15 A key figure in the ongoing legacy of modern cinema, David Lynch designs environments for spectators, transporting them to inner worlds built by mood, texture and uneasy artifice. We enter these famously cinematic interiors to be wrapped in plastic, the fundamental substance of Lynch's work. This volume revels in the weird dynamism of Lynch's plastic worlds. Exploring the range of modern design idioms that inform Lynch's films and signature mise en scène, Justus Nieland argues that plastic is at once a key architectural and interior design dynamic in Lynch's films, an uncertain way of feeling essential to Lynch's art, and the prime matter of Lynch's strange picture of the human organism. Nieland's study offers striking new readings of Lynch's major works: Eraserhead, Blue Velvet, Wild at Heart, Mulholland Drive, Inland Empire, and his early experimental films, placing Lynch's experimentalism within the aesthetic traditions of modernism and the avant-garde, the genres of melodrama, film noir, and art cinema, architecture and design history, and contemporary debates about cinematic ontology in the wake of the digital. This inventive study argues that Lynch's plastic concept of life, supplemented by technology, media, and sensuous networks of an electric world, is more alive today than ever.

The Complete Lynch David Hughes, 2014-04-30 After working with David on his previous work for the series The Complete Kubrick, we knew we were on to a winner for this book. Not only is David Lynch a master of modern film making, but David Hughes is well qualified to write this complete book. The book covers all Lynch's films, including Mulholland Drive, TV, and other projects, as well as the unrealised ventures such as Revenge of the Jedi (later directed by Richard Marquand) as Return of the Jedi. It also includes a foreword by Barry Gifford, the novelist behind Wild at Heart, and co-writer with Lynch of the screenplay for Lost Highway, and excerpts from a new interview David Hughes carried out with David Lynch himself. The Complete Lynch is the only comprehensive study of this great director.

Impure Cinema Lúcia Nagib, Anne Jerslev, 2013-10-24 Impure Cinema goes back to Bazin's original title precisely for its defence of impurity, applying it on the one hand to cinema's interbreeding with other arts and on the other to its ability to convey and promote cultural diversity In contemporary progressive film criticism ideas of purity essence and origin have been superseded by favourable approaches to hybridization transnationalism multiculturalism and cross fertilizations of all sorts Impure Cinema builds on this idea in novel and exciting ways as it draws on cinema's combination of intermedial and intercultural aspects as a means to bridge the divide between studies of aesthetics and culture Film is revealed here as the location par excellence of media encounters mutual questioning and self dissolution into post medium experiments Most importantly the book argues film's intermedial relations can only be properly understood if their cultural determinants are taken into account Scholars and students of film cinefiles and students of the arts will discover here unexpected connections across many artistic practices

The Philosophy of David Lynch William J.
