Glamour, 1999 Predicting the Unthinkable, Anticipating the Impossible Georgie Anne Geyer, 2017-09-04 In the 1980s most Americans scoffed at the idea that the Communist empire could collapse but Georgie Anne Geyer was already outlining that probability In the 1990s the world was stunned by wars that raged across post Yugoslavia and their viciousness but Geyer on a trip to Belgrade in 1989 interviewed top officials and anticipated the conflicts When 9 11 occurred she used common sense and said This was inevitable the terrorists had already attacked the World Trade Center in 1993 and criminals always return to the scene of the crime Geyer argues that while the United States was being praised everywhere during this era of indispensable power as the greatest power the world has known it actually had started on the road to decline It had won the Cold War but had immediately embarked upon more Vietnam like small wars of tremendous cost in Iraq and Afghanistan Across the board it was no longer paying its way while its domestic culture was being vulgarized at every turn This book explains how when and where these declines happened Geyer studies the history of nations and of peoples observes human nature particularly as influenced by religion and ideology and is a close analyst of the acts of men and women when they perceive they have been humiliated by others or by history She warns Americans and journalists that we must anticipate the changes in the world before they are upon us and that we must employ predictions to strengthen our nation and its principles

Predicting the Winner Ira Chinoy, 2024-05 Winner of the Ray Hiebert History of Journalism Published Work Award The history of American elections changed profoundly on the night of November 4 1952 An outside the box approach to predicting winners from early returns with new tools computers was launched live and untested on the newest medium for news television Like exhibits in a freak show computers were referred to as electronic brains and mechanical monsters Yet this innovation would help fuel an obsession with numbers as a way of understanding and shaping politics It would engender controversy down to our own time And it would herald a future in which the public square would go digital The gamble was fueled by a crisis of credibility stemming from faulty election night forecasts four years earlier in 1948 combined with a lackluster presentation of returns What transpired in 1952 is a complex tale of responses to innovation which Ira Chinoy makes understandable via a surprising history of election nights as venues for rolling out new technologies refining methods of prediction and providing opportunities for news organizations to shine In Predicting the Winner Chinoy tells in detail for the first time the story of the 1952 election night a night with continuing implications for the way forward from the dramatic events of 2020 21 and for future election nights in the United States
