Accès À L'eau Pour Les Agricultrices Saheliennes Rosnert Ludovic Alissoutin, Ramata Molo Thioune, 2024-11-29 Cet ouvrage collectif est réalisé dans le cadre du projet de recherche Effectivité des droits économiques des femmes cas de l'accès à l'eau usage agricole en Mauritanie au Niger et au Sénégal initié par le RADI et appuyé par le CRDI Il vise à clarifier l'origine les manifestations et les conséquences des clivages de genre dans l'accès à l'exploitation et le contrôle de l'eau productive Au-delà de l'intérêt qu'elle présente pour la recherche cette problématique s'inscrit dans la même dynamique de défense des droits économiques des femmes dans un contexte sahélo les contraintes de maîtrise de l'eau facteurs de pauvreté génèrent des tensions entre les différents besoins et intérêts d'utilisation Le croisement des résultats de la recherche obtenus dans les trois pays a permis de tirer de précieuses leçons sur la démarche d'investigation essentiellement marquée par le genre la participation et la comparaison et de tracer des pistes pour un accès plus équitable des femmes aux ressources économiques en général et à l'eau usage agricole en particulier Dans ce sillage l'une des originalités de cette initiative scientifique sous régionale est la mise en place d'un comité transnational de plaidoyer chargé de favoriser la mise en œuvre des recommandations de la recherche C'est-à-dire que le processus de recherche-action est loin d'être terminé This collective work was conducted within the context of the research project entitled Effectiveness of women's economic rights the case of access to water for agricultural use in Mauritania Niger and Senegal Initiated by the African Network for Integrated Development RADI and the International Development Research Centre IDRC it aims to explain the origins manifestations and consequences of the gender divide with regards to access use and control of productive water Beyond its significance for research this issue is also relevant to the dynamic protection of women's economic rights in the Sahelian environment where the difficult collection of water and the issues pertaining to poverty generate tensions between various consumption needs and interests. The correlation between the research results obtained in the three countries emerges as a critical lesson on the investigative approach which is fundamentally marked by gender participation and comparison and also outlines the ways in which to promote women's equitable access to economic resources in particular their access to water reserved for agricultural use. In this light one of the novelties of this sub-regional scientific initiative is the establishment of a transnational advocacy committee responsible for promoting the implementation of the recommendations of the research. This means that the research action process is far from being completed.

Stopper la ruée vers l'Europe Pierre-Jules ZING

TSALA,2018-05-25T00:00:00Z En soixante ans l'économie du développement n'a pas produit les résultats escomptés en Afrique subsaharienne. Si l'on impute généralement cet échec au néocolonialisme voire aux populations africaines elles-mêmes, Pierre Jules ZING TSALA nous propose une analyse plus fine du retard de développement de l'Afrique. Les véritables freins au développement résident selon l'auteur essentiellement dans les vides institutionnels, la persistance de l'idéologie néolibérale, le manque de confiance entre les individus et par-dessus tout dans l'absence d'un esprit de bien commun. En effet, comment envisager par exemple la protection de l'environnement comme une priorité si la notion de bien commun n'est pas ancrée dans les mentalités ? Comment bâtir des pays solides et prospères si la confiance disparaît totalement des relations humaines ? S'appuyant sur des exemples de développement réussis, l'auteur démontre que les progrès sont possibles. Face à l'urgence migratoire, il apparaît nécessaire d'apporter des solutions concrètes pour le développement de l'Afrique subsaharienne, commencer par l'émergence d'un gouvernement basé sur l'esprit de bien collectif.

Société civile et marchandisation de l'eau

Catherine Baron, 2005 Les enjeux liés à l'accessibilité à l'eau en milieu urbain, qu'il s'agisse des villes européennes ou des villes des pays en développement, sont liés aux choix opérés par les acteurs entre différentes modalités d'accès et de gestion. Les tentatives de généraliser des formes de partenariat entre le privé et le public dans ce domaine ont suscité des conflits et la recherche de compromis entre des acteurs aux logiques parfois divergentes. Ces évolutions doivent être analysées à travers des grilles de
