The Transformation of Rural Africa T. S. Jayne, Jordan Chamberlin, Rui Benfica, 2020-04-28 Contemporary discussions of Africa s recent growth have largely interpreted such growth in terms of structural transformation based mainly on national and sectoral level data However the micro level processes driving this transformation are still unclear and remain the subject of debate This collection provides a micro economic foundation for understanding the particular growth processes at work within the region s rural areas and in so doing provides important insights for policy action The book provides valuable household and farm level evidence about the drivers of rural labour productivity improvements in access to markets investment in food value chains and indeed the role of rural economic growth in Africa s ongoing rural transformation processes Some of the features of Africa s ongoing rural transformation are similar to those of agricultural transformation as experienced in Asia and elsewhere However other features of Africa s rural transformation are unique and pose important challenges for development policy and planning Together the studies compiled in this volume provide an updated evidence based and policy relevant understanding of where African countries are in their developmental trajectories and the region s prospects for achieving inclusive forms of development over the next several decades This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Development Studies

Development from Within D. R. F. Taylor, Fiona Mackenzie, 2024-09-30 The decade of 1980s was one of crisis for Africa Neither African governments nor development agencies made a significant impact on the quality of life of rural people The enormous range of contexts in Africa social economic political cultural and environmental limits the value of the search for universal solutions to endemic problems First published in 1992 Development from Within examines an alternative framework arguing for flexibility and specificity The authors use case studies to explore the complex social relationships of power from the household to the state They argue for the knowledge and skill of African people and illustrate the diverse means by which men and women in rural Africa struggle to survive This book will be a beneficial read for students and researchers of African studies development studies economics and sociology

Youth and jobs in rural Africa: Beyond stylized facts: Synopsis Mueller, Valerie, Thurlow, James, 2019-11-28 The rural population in Africa south of the Sahara is growing and its rural economy is still underdeveloped The pressure to create jobs in rural areas is therefore particularly acute There is cause for optimism however Evidence suggests that agriculture is transforming in many African countries albeit slowly and that youth are often participating in this process Further research is needed to accelerate this progress

Africa's Water and Sanitation

Infrastructure ,2011-01-01 Africa's Water and Sanitation Infrastructure Access Affordability and Alternatives integrates a wealth of primary and secondary information to present a quantitative snapshot of the state of the WSS sectors in Africa. It explains the sectoral institutional structures and utility performance and articulates the volume and quality of financing available over time. The authors also evaluate the challenges to the WSS sectors and explore the factors that govern the expansion of coverage over time. Finally, the authors estimate spending needs for WSS, arriving at a funding gap for meeting the MDGs. The proposed directions for the future draw on lessons learned from best practices and present the menu of choices available to African countries, bearing in mind that the challenges differ to a significant extent among countries and solutions must be tailored to national or regional conditions. Book Jacket Africa Tony Binns, Etienne Nel, Alan

Dixon, Kenneth Lynch, 2023-12-08 Africa Diversity and Development introduces and demystifies Africa's diversity and dynamism and considers how its peoples and environments have interacted through time and space. The book examines the background and diversity of Africa's social, cultural, economic, political, and environmental systems, as well as key development issues which have affected Africa in the past and are likely to be significant in shaping the future of the continent. These include the impact of HIV/AIDS, sources of conflict and post-conflict reconstruction, the state and governance, the nature of African economies in a global context, and future development trajectories. This second edition features new chapters on history and governance, health, separate chapters on rural and urban development, and updated content on all aspects of the continent, particularly aspects of culture and ethnicity. It is richly illustrated throughout with diagrams and plates and contains a wealth of detailed up-to-date case studies and current data. This textbook is a refreshing interdisciplinary text which enhances understanding of the background to Africa's current position and clarifies possible future scenarios. It will be a valuable resource for students taking modules on Africa, African Development, and Geography of Africa, and will also prove useful to students in the wider fields of Geography, Development Studies, Global Studies, Environment and Society, and African Politics. Regional analysis of the nationally determined contributions in sub-Saharan Africa Crumpler, K.,

Gagliardi, G., Otieno, Z., Dino Radin, M., Berrahmouni, N., Federici, S., Dasgupta, S., Buto, O., Toepper, J., Bloise, M., Salvatore, M., Meybeck, A., Wolf, J., Bernoux, M., 2022-06-30 This report provides a unique sector-specific synthesis of the nationally determined contributions (NDCs) submitted by countries in sub-Saharan Africa. It summarizes the substantial contributions already put forward by countries, opportunities for further action, and the gaps, barriers, and needs that will need to be addressed if the agriculture and land use sectors in sub-Saharan Africa are to raise mitigation and adaptation ambitions. The findings of this report will help FAO Members to reflect on their progress in advancing toward NDC implementation of their agriculture and land use priorities, as well as illustrate potential areas for enhancing mitigation and adaptation ambition in future NDCs. The analysis also helps to clarify the links between the NDCs from the region and the 2030 Agenda and the Sendai Framework for Disaster Risk Reduction (SFDRR). Finally, the report serves as a guide to FAO and other organizations in the region to design targeted evidenced based support programmes that support Member Countries to fill current implementation gaps and scale up climate action in the agriculture and land use sectors

The Demography of Africa Bloomsbury Publishing,1996-11-25 Written lucidly and simply to serve as an introduction to the study of the African continent from a human population perspective this book demonstrates important factors in the ebb and flow of group size and structure using the example of the fastest growing region in the world From a total original population of less than a quarter million in prehistoric times to the present count of 642 million people in 1990 Africa is now demonstrating an annual growth rate of 3.0% the highest on the planet While the rest of the world's population is expected to increase by 60% Africa's is expected to increase by 100% doubling by the year 2025 to a projected total of 1.6 billion people The major factor creating the high growth rate is the drop in death rates while the fertility rates remain high Stress on the population has been related to urbanization which has increased since African countries attained independence in the 1960s Employment opportunities in cities are inadequate and slum conditions have appeared around most major cities Since agriculture remains the major industry and occupation rural development policies are seen to hold the most promise for stemming urban migration and reducing famine and poverty

Transforming rural Africa Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2024-03-22 The UN Decade of Family Farming 2019-2028 acknowledges the importance of inclusive rural communication services RCS to advance economic environmental and social dimensions of family farming Focusing on Africa this study examines the role of RCS in rural transformation and family farming and provides insights for the region Through case studies and a review of media and ICT trends and policies it highlights the need for participatory farmer centred communication approaches and responsive delivery mechanisms aligned with local socioeconomic realities The study concludes with recommendations for embedding RCS into national policies thereby opening new development opportunities for family farmers and rural communities in the Africa region

Africa's Agricultural Renaissance Ayodele Odusola,2021-06-26 This book addresses the paradox between preponderance of hunger in a continent that is well endowed with fertile agricultural land plenty of fresh water and a vibrant labor force As some statistics show close to 60% of arable land in the world is located in Africa which also has several rivers flowing in all seasons and plenty of underground water The bulk of its labor force thrives on agriculture yet the continent's largest import item is food 23 of 36 the most malnourished countries also belong in Africa This has caused significant needless human suffering This book goes beyond providing the traditional framework of supplying policy recommendations to delivering an applied innovative framework upon which policymakers the private sector and international institutions can take clear and deliberate action to stimulate Africa's agricultural sector thus responding to the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development
