Rural Australia And The Great War From Tarrawingee To Tangambalanga:

Rural Australia and the Great War John McQuilton, 2013-05-09 In the cities and in the countryside of Australia the Great War of 1914-1918 marched to somewhat different tempos John McQuilton evokes the wartime experience of all rural Australians by capturing the moods of the country towns and hamlets of North Eastern Victoria Every aspect of the war recruiting fund raising and eventually homecoming and the design of the war memorial was marked by a mixture of small minded local politics heroism and sacrifice and grief Individuals whether journalists town councillors or leading local citizens shaped the recurring battles on the home front The conscription debates were particularly vicious as the countryside exhausted its pool of volunteers long before the cities In small communities the shirker could not hide everyone knew which families had sent men to the front and who had genuine reasons for staying home This intimacy worked in favour of the many German Australians country people knew them as trusted neighbours but in the cities they were reviled as enemy aliens Rural Australia and the Great War is unique among writing on the First World War in creating a richly detailed picture of wartime in a particular part of country Australia For country and city readers alike this is fascinating social history

Australia and the Great War Michael JK Walsh, Andrekos Varnava, 2016-01-01 Australia and the Great War explores both the immediate and long term consequences of the war on this complex relationship looking in particular at identity history gender propaganda economics and nationalism This multidisciplinary collection of essays unveils the creation and subsequent mis use of histories and mythologies while considering the necessity and nature of both remembering and forgetting war

The Crying Years Peter Stanley, 2017 The Great War of 1914-1918 affected all Australians and decisively changed the new nation They were The Crying Years according to writer Zora Cross who lost her brother in 1917 This visual history of Australia's Great War offers a different perspective on a period of time familiar to many It helps to connect the war overseas the well chronicled battles at Gallipoli Fromelles Passchendaele and Villers Bretonneux with the equally bitter war at home for and against conscription over loyalty and disloyalty Men faced life changing choices volunteer to fight or stay at home join the revolutionary unionists or break the strikes Women bore the burdens of waiting and worrying of working for charities or of voting to send men to their deaths Even children were drawn into the animosities as their communities fractured under the stress Prize winning historian Professor Peter Stanley of UNSW Canberra uses documents photographs artefacts and images from the collections of the National Library of Australia to evoke the drama and tragedy suffering and sacrifice pain and pity of Australia's Great War

Jimmy Sharman's Boxers Stephen McGrath, 2023-10-04 Jimmy Sharman is a conundrum Raised in a large poor catholic family becoming a tent boxer at age eleven He blinds another boxer and is racked by guilt for the rest of his life yet develops an extremely profitable and popular showground fixture We learn about Sharman's boxing tent spruiking his unconventional business habits his furious temper his leadership and diplomacy Sharman was twenty seven and medically fit when the war started We learn the real life stories of several indigenous boxers who were openly defiant against the intense racism they encountered We meet clumsy Billy Grimes the flat foot kid who went on to win several Australian titles We see an unlikely friendship develop between Rud Kee a Chinese boxer and Sharman As losses at Gallipoli and the Western Front grow townspeople begin to question why a troupe of young men is fighting for profit while others are dying Soon there are few men left Sharman struggles to find challengers recruitment propaganda and white feather campaigns intensify The conscription plebiscites bitterly divide Australia Then great personal tragedy visits Archie and the troupe This story is the result of a remarkable new discovery in Australian history a true story about how Jimmy Sharman navigated his Boxing Troupe throughout the First World War despite the war fervour the conscription debate pressure to enlist accusations of cowardice and the tragic loss of so many to the war itself Based on extensive research of real people and real events this story tells how Jimmy Sharman managed to continue to tour throughout the war and created an unbeatable boxing troupe of White Chinese and indigenous boxers training them to be the most famous of all the Australian Travelling Boxing Troupes This is an incredible true and uniquely Australian story it is beautifully told giving us deep insight into the struggles of extraordinary people in extraordinary times Stephen McGrath's tireless research underpins this reanimation of a key chapter in Australia's social cultural and sporting history Much can be learned from revisiting the rollicking days of Jimmy Sharman's troupe traversing geographic racial and social frontiers Micheal Winkler Author of Grimmish short listed for the Miles Franklin Literary Award in 2022
