Russia And The Arms Trade:

Russia and the Arms Trade Ian Anthony, Stockholm International Peace Research Institute, 1998 During the cold war the Soviet Union was the single largest supplier of conventional weapons With the collapse of first the Warsaw Pact and then the USSR arms transfers from the new state of Russia virtually ceased By 1996 Russia had once again emerged as a significant source of major conventional weapons While unable to challenge the predominant position of the United States it seems likely that Russia will be a serious competitor to second tier arms suppliers such as France and the UK In Russia and the Arms Trade a group of Russian authors were commissioned to describe and assess the arms trade policies and practices of Russia under new domestic and international conditions The authors drawn from the government industry and academic communities offer a wide ranging assessment of the political military economic and industrial implications of Russian arms transfers together with specific case studies of important bilateral arms transfer relationships Contributors General Yri Kirshin retired Peter Litavrin Sergei Kortunov Alexander Subbotin Alexander Sergounin Elena Denezhkina Irina Kobrinskaya Sergei Kolpakov Yuri Drugov Gennady Gornostaev Anton Surikov Pavel Felgengauer Russia in the World Arms Trade Andrew J. Pierre, Dmitrii Trenin, 1997 The book evolved from discussions of the Russian American working group convened by the co editors in the fall of 1994 at the Moscow Center of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace Russian arms transfers to East Asia in the 1990s Александр Анатольевич Сергунин, Sergei V. Subbotin, 1999 The transfer of arms and military technology is one of the main instruments of Russia s security strategy in East Asia This research report documents Russia s arms exports to these countries and examines the motivations behind its policies and decisions Law and the Arms Trade Laurence Lustgarten, 2020-09-03 This ground breaking book offers an extensive legal analysis grounded in public EU and international law of arms trade regulation integrated with insights drawn from international relations The sale of weapons and related technologies is globally one of the most politically controversial and ethically contentious forms of commerce Intimately connected with sustaining repressive governments and violations of international human rights and humanitarian law arms exports are also a central element in the economic and strategic policies of the governments of all large industrial states They have also been the source of abundant corruption and of serious challenges to the norms and effectiveness of constitutional accountability in democratic states On paper the arms trade is heavily regulated national legislation and international treaties are in place which purport to prohibit certain transactions and limit others Yet despite its importance legal and international relations scholarship on the subject has been surprisingly limited This book fills this gap in the literature by examining and comparing the export control regimes of eight leading nations USA Russia the UK France Germany Sweden China and India with chapters contributed by leading experts in the field of law and international relations Defence Offsets and the Global Arms Trade Jonata Anicetti, 2024-02-06 This book offers the first comprehensive study of defence offsets and its economic security political and theoretical implications Originating in the second half of the 19th century defence offsets additional economic industrial and technological benefits to states for buying foreign weapons have since been a key feature of the global arms trade and defence industry And yet offsets are an under researched and under theorised phenomenon This book fills this gap in the literature by offering the first general theory of defence offsets as well as the first systematic analysis of the offset phenomenon By building on the insights of scholars of defence economics and drawing from the International Relations liberal paradigm as well as reviving and adapting Robert Putnam s two level game framework the book proposes a liberal rationalist theory of defence offsets It then proves the worth of such a theory through Qualitative Comparative Analysis QCA of fifty four fighter aircraft transfers from 1992 to 2021 inclusive and three in depth case studies addressing offsets negotiated and agreed to as part of fighter aircraft competitions in Brazil India and South Korea This book will be of interest to students of defence studies defence economics security studies and international relations

The International Arms Trade Rachel Stohl, Suzette Grillo, 2013-04-29 The multi billion dollar business of the international conventional arms trade involves virtually every country in the world Around the globe people s lives are being irrevocably changed by the effects of guns tanks and missiles These weapons have the potential to cause a deadly and current threat one responsible for hundreds of thousands of deaths a year This succinct and accessible new book explores the complexities and realities of the global conventional weapons trade The first book on the subject in nearly a decade The International Arms Trade provides an engaging introduction to the trade the effects and the consequences of these weapons The authors trace the history of the arms trade and examine how it has evolved since the end of the Cold War In particular they assess the role of the largest arms exporters and importers the business of selling conventional arms around the world and shed new light on the illicit arms trade and the shadowy dealers who profit from their deadly commerce The book also looks closely at the devastating effect the business can have on countries societies and individuals and concludes with an evaluation of the various existing control strategies and the potential for future control opportunities The International Arms Trade will be invaluable for students and scholars of international relations and security studies and for policymakers and anyone interested in understanding more about the conventional arms trade

Russia as an Aspiring Great Power in East Asia P. Rangsimaporn, 2009-08-27 Rangsimaporn argues that Russia aspires to become a great power and tries to achieve this through utilizing its position as a Eurasian country with vast territories in East Asia its economic assets primarily arms and energy and careful management of its role in a multipolar East Asia with a complex balance of power

The Sources of Russian Foreign Policy Assertiveness Angela Borozna, 2022-01-31 This book explores the sources of Russia s foreign policy conduct since the end of the Cold War It is aimed at those interested in Russian foreign policy international security and diplomacy The book embraces an eclectic approach by applying insights from several strands of IR theory exploring both international and domestic sources The author argues that Russian foreign policy is influenced by the country s strategic culture which exhibits some persistent elements inherited from Russia s imperial past and from Soviet times The challenges to Russia's security interests from Western policies led to an increase in Russian foreign policy assertiveness As a result Russia is becoming more committed to Eurasian integration and nurturing relations with China This book further argues that Russia's relations with the post Soviet states have been and will remain a priority of its foreign relations and therefore Russia is likely to continue challenging any Western interference in these states The author maintains that geoeconomics and the protection of overseas economic interests are becoming more prominent in Russia's foreign policy calculus The role of domestic factors in the country's foreign policy such as authoritarianism regime vulnerability and the role of political factions is also examined

Arms Sales and Regional Stability The International Institute for Strategic Studies (IISS), 2023-04-28 The book considers the main arms exporting countries including China Russia and the US as well as several European states and the policies each employs in deciding advanced weapons sales to key regions of the world It examines whether such sales are inherently stabilising or de stabilising regarding regional security Regions reviewed in detail include the Middle East and the Indo Pacific Combat aircraft sales are a focus for the volume given both their practical and symbolic importance The volume focuses on the behaviour and policies of the main arms exporting nations since the end of the Cold War shifts in their arms export policies and the tensions that can emerge within or between countries over proposed arms sales It also considers the impact of countries that were previously only recipients of advanced weapons moving to develop their own defence industrial base

Policing Northeast Asia Se Hyun Ahn, 2020-06-02 This book explores the progress in and the obstacles surrounding developing comprehensive security cooperation between Russia and South Korea since diplomatic relations were established in 1991 within the framework of economic security The book focuses on oil and natural gas projects linking the Trans Siberian and Trans Korean Railroads industrial development in the Nakhodka Free Economic Zone fishery cooperation and the arms trade and examines whether these five aspects of cooperation serve to contribute to building Russian South Korean bilateral and regional economic security The author argues that these five aspects of cooperation all have the potential to enhance comprehensive bilateral security and further regional economic security in Northeast Asia However Russian South Korean economic cooperation has been hampered by a number of obstacles including domestic factors as well as external factors and prevented Russia and South Korea from fulfilling their potential for creating a cooperative comprehensive security relationship The author concludes with an assessment on the utility of the concept of multi dimensional security cooperation as a framework for studying and improving the prospects for Russian South Korean bilateral relations
