The Emergence of Meaning Stephen Crain, 2012-08-30 Over the past forty years scientists have developed models of human reasoning based on the principle that human languages and classical logic involve fundamentally different concepts and different methods of interpretation In The Emergence of Meaning Stephen Crain challenges this view arguing that a common logical nativism underpins human language and logical reasoning The approach which Crain takes is twofold Firstly he uncovers the underlying meanings of logical expressions and logical principles that appear in typologically different languages English and Mandarin Chinese and he demonstrates that these meanings and principles directly correspond to the expressions and structures of classical logic Secondly he reports the findings of new experimental studies which investigate how children acquire the logical concepts of these languages A step by step introduction to logic and a comprehensive review of the literature on child language acquisition make this work accessible to those unfamiliar with either field

On the Temporal Interpretation of Noun Phrases Renate Musan, 2021-11-18. First published in 1997, this thesis is about the temporal interpretation of noun phrases. Although the temporal interpretation of verbs is by no means a settled issue today, all of us have at least a vague idea of how it works: sentences contain verbs and tenses and sometimes temporal adverbials and in some way or other the tense of a clause tells us roughly whether the state of affairs denoted by the main predicate of the clause or at least a crucial part of it is located at a past, present or future time.

Romance Languages and Linguistic Theory 2005 Sergio Baauw, Franciscus Alphonse Coenraad Dijkoningen, Manuela Pinto, 2007. The conference series Going Romance is the major European discussion forum for theoretically relevant research on Romance languages where ideas about language and linguistics and about Romance languages are put in an interactive perspective giving space to both universality and Romance internal variation. The current volume features a selection of 18 articles out of 28 that were presented during the 19th meeting at Utrecht University, December 8-10, 2005. Included in this volume are four papers that were presented by invited speakers: Belletti, Delais, Roussarie; these reflect both issues discussed in the general session as well as themes of the workshop on acquisition. A number of well-known Romance linguists: Saltarelli, di Sciullo, Zubizarreta also contributed to the volume. In general, contributions bear on a variety of topics in the field of morphology, syntax, semantics and pragmatics and include the perspective from acquisition.
