The Building as Screen Dave Colangelo, 2025-10-01 The Building as Screen A History Theory and Practice of Massive Media describes historicizes theorizes and creatively deploys massive media a set of techno social assemblages and practices that include large outdoor projections programmable architectural faades and urban screens in order to better understand their critical and creative potential Massive media is named as such not only because of the size and subsequent visibility of this phenomenon but also for its characteristic networks and interactive screen and cinema like qualities Examples include the programmable lighting of the Empire State Building and the interactive projections of Montreal's Quartier des spectacles as well as a number of works created by the author himself This book argues that massive media enables and necessitates the development of new practices of expanded cinema public data visualization and installation art and curation that blend the logics of urban space monumentality and the public sphere with the aesthetics and affordances of digital information and the moving image

Video and DVD Industries Paul McDonald, 2019-07-25 When the videocassette recorder was launched on the consumer market in the mid 1970s it transformed home entertainment Bringing together complementary but also competing interests from the consumer electronics industry and the film television and other copyright industries video created a new sector of media business Two decades later DVD reinvented video media for the digital age DVD provided consumers with an innovative form of entertainment technology and almost instantaneously became the catalyst for a huge boom in the video market Although the VCR and DVD created major markets for video hardware and software the video business has been continually shaped by industry conflicts and tensions Repeatedly the video market has become divided when faced with the introduction of competing formats Easy reproduction of films and other works on cassette or disc made video software a lucrative market for the copyright industries but also intensified struggles to combat the effects of commercial piracy Video and DVD Industries examines the business of video entertainment and provides the first study looking at DVD from an industrial perspective Detailing divisions in the video business the book outlines industry battles over incompatible formats from the Betamax VHS war to competing laserdisc systems alternatives such as video compact disc or Digital Video Express and the introduction of HDDVD and Blu ray high definition systems Chapters also look at the formation of international markets in the globalization of video media the contradictory responses of the Hollywood studios to video and DVD and the legal and technological measures taken to control industrialized video piracy

Lee Marvin Robert J. Lentz, 2015-09-15 Lee Marvin did not receive his first starring film role until he was 40 but in three short years following the successes of Cat Ballou for which he won the Academy Award as Best Actor The Professionals and especially The Dirty Dozen he was the most popular film actor in America Marvin was a fascinating man a loving husband and father and one of the most natural effective actors of his time This is a comprehensive reference of the Oscar winning actor's work It includes biographical information on Marvin an analysis of each of his 64 movies chapters on his two television shows M Squad and Lawbreaker a listing of his television appearances and a complete filmography which includes video availability The work is supplemented with dozens of photographs and film stills

Surveillance on Screen

Sébastien Lefait, 2013 The theme of surveillance has become an increasingly common element in movies and television shows perhaps as a response to the sense that the world is now virtually under watch But the recent surge of this filmic device calls for an explanation that transcends the basic assumption that media illustrates the changes of society The persistent and growing presence of surveillance in cinematic productions is not merely a reflection of the advent of surveillance societies but rather an aesthetic adaptation to the evolution of watching patterns In Surveillance on Screen Monitoring Contemporary Films and Television Programs Sébastien Lefait examines this ever increasing phenomenon Drawing on the rapidly developing field of surveillance studies Lefait offers an in depth analysis of television shows and films which complement current theoretical approaches to those subjects This unique combination of surveillance theories with the latest concepts of film television and Internet studies is based on a large and diversified range of popular series and films including the shows 24 Lost and Survivor as well as such films as Minority Report Paranormal Activity The Truman Show and the on screen version of George Orwell's Nineteen Eighty Four Written from a perspective that does not limit itself to a reflection of society approach this book explores both how cinema shapes our experience of surveillance and how surveillance influences our viewing of cinema Lefait follows the various identifiable stages in cinema's experimental use of surveillance studying the impact of technology on both the watcher and the watched In addition to film and media studies this book will be of interest to those engaged in information technology sociology and of course surveillance studies

Looking-Glass Wars: Spies on British Screens since 1960 Alan Burton, 2018-01-31 Looking Glass Wars Spies on British Screens since 1960 is a detailed historical and critical overview of espionage in British film and television in the important period since 1960 From that date the British spy screen was transformed under the influence of the tremendous success of James Bond in the cinema the spy thriller and of the new style spy writing of John le Carr and Len Deighton the espionage story In the 1960s there developed a popular cycle of spy thrillers in the cinema and on television The new study looks in detail at the cycle which in previous work has been largely neglected in favour of the James Bond films The study also brings new attention to espionage on British television and popular secret agent series such as Spy Trap Quiller and The Sandbaggers It also gives attention to the more realistic representation of spying in the film and television adaptations of le Carr and Deighton and other dramas with a more serious intent In addition there is wholly original attention given to nostalgic spy fictions on screen adaptations of classic stories of espionage which were popular in the late 1970s and through the 1980s and to historical spy fiction dramas which treated real cases of espionage and their characters most notably the notorious Cambridge Spies Detailed attention is also given to the secret state thriller a cycle of paranoid screen dramas in the 1980s which portrayed the intelligence services in a conspiratorial light best understood as a reaction to excessive official secrecy and anxieties about an unregulated security service The study is brought up to date with an examination of screen espionage in Britain since the end of the Cold War The approach is empirical and historical The study examines the production and reception literary and historical contexts of the films and dramas It is the first detailed overview of the British spy screen in its crucial period since the 1960s and provides fresh attention to spy films series and serials never previously considered Confronting Reality R. W. Kilborn, John Izod, 1997-11-15 This lively introduction to television documentaries spotlights their history production and reception principal forms and functions and their adaptation to today's programming needs What impact has television's growing commercialisation had on the type of documentary broadcast What has led to the introduction of an increasing number of hybridised forms These questions are addressed within an examination of the role of institutions documentary's special relationship with the real and an insight into how audiences interpret the documentaries they view Confronting reality has been written with the requirements of media studies students in mind yet it is a must for everyone concerned with recording reality in the fast changing world of television today Books in Print, 1991 Screens of Power Timothy W. relate to the specific issue in question The second section offers examples of good working practice and application of the theory described and the final section offers useful background information such as an explanation of the technical terms that will help you to make informed design decisions Selling points shows professional designers and students how to develop functional concepts and good design for the small screen and pertinent subject given advancing technology in mobile phones palm top computers and other small screen devices Readership both professional designers and students alike Authors Professor Carola Zwick studied at the University of Arts Berlin where she gained an MA in Industrial Design In 1993 she joined the teaching body at the University of Arts Berlin as an Assistant Professor and together with Burkhard Schmitz she initiated the media group ID 5 within the design course Carola Zwick has been teaching interface design at the University of Applied Sciences Magdeburg Stendal since 1998 Professor Burkhard Schmitz studied at the University of Arts in Berlin where he too gained an MA in Industrial Design In 1989 he became Professor for Media Design at the University of Applied Sciences Schwabisch Gmund In 1993 he returned once more to the University of Arts Berlin where he has taught Interactive Systems since Dipl Designer Kerstin Kuhl studied at the University of Applied Sciences Dessau where she gained a diploma in Graphic Design BFI Film and Television Yearbook ,1986 At a Theater or Drive-in Near You Randall Clark,2013-12-17 Millions of Americans have been thrilled scared titillated and shocked by exploitation movies low budget films with many scenes of sex violence and other potentially lurid elements The term derives from the fact that promoters of such films exploit the contents in advertising that plays up the sexual or violent aspects of the films This is the first comprehensive study of the American exploitation film to be published It discusses five distinct genres the teen movie the sexploitation film the martial arts movie the blaxploitation film and the lawbreaker picture Contained within these genres are many popular American film types including beach movies biker pictures and women s prison movies The study provides a history and sociopolitical analysis of each genre focusing on significant films in those genres It also discusses the economics of exploitation films and their place in the motion picture industry the development of drive in theaters the significance of the teenage audience and the effect of the videocassette Finally the book applies major film and cultural theories to establish an aesthetic for evaluating the exploitation film and to explore the relationship between film and audience Glenn Ford Peter Ford,2011-05-12 Glenn Ford star of such now classic films as Gilda Blackboard Jungle The Big Heat 3 10 to Yuma and The Rounders had rugged good looks a long and successful career and a glamorous Hollywood life Yet the man who could be accessible and charming on screen retreated to a deeply private world he created behind closed doors Glenn Ford A Life chronicles the volatile life relationships and career of the renowned actor beginning with his move from Canada to California and his initial discovery of theater It follows Ford s career in diverse media from film to television to radio and shows how Ford shifted effortlessly between genres playing major roles in dramas noir westerns and romances This biography by Glenn Ford s son Peter Ford offers an intimate view of a star s private and public life Included are exclusive interviews with family friends and professional associates and snippets from the Ford family collection of diaries letters audiotapes unpublished interviews and rare candid photos This biography tells a cautionary tale of Glenn Ford's relentless infidelities and long slow fade out but it also embraces his talent driven career The result is an authentic Hollywood story that isn't afraid to reveal the truth Best Books for General Audiences selected by the American Association of School Librarians Best Books for General Audiences selected by the Public Library Reviewers

Korean War Filmography Robert J. Lentz, 2016-05-01 The Korean experience changed the way Americans viewed war The lack of a clear cut victory inspired filmmakers to try to make sense of fighting another country's civil war and risking American lives for an unpopular cause This filmography details more than 90 English language films Each entry includes complete cast and credit listings a plot synopsis evaluation review snippets and notice of video availability This book places each film in its historical context assesses the essential truthfulness of each film and evaluates its entertainment value and discusses how and why Korean War films differ from other Hollywood war genres Four appendices list the films by chronology production company and studio level of historical accuracy and subject and theme Additional appendices list films with incidental references to the Korean War documentaries on the Korean War and South Korean films about the war Photographs a bibliography and an index are included

Uncanny Cinema Murray Pomerance, 2022-10-20 Murray Pomerance's latest book explores an encyclopedic range of films and television shows to demonstrate the difficulty of conveying the experience of viewing cinema through words and the medium of text From On the Waterfront to Marriage Story Uncanny Cinema illuminates that words and writing are in perilous waters when applied to cinema similar to ungestured talk The book begins with this problem using Julian Jaynes's thoughts on vocality and imagination before delving into three exploratory movements arranged to alternately challenge inspire and confound the reader to question if we know what we think we know or even see what we think we see The viewer is faced with disturbances ruptures and surprises that occur during the viewing experience which Pomerance analyzes to stretch the sense of what we do and do not or possibly cannot know particularly as we think talk and write about cinema
