Silent Film Adaptations of Novels by British and American Women Writers, 1903-1929 Jamie Barlowe, 2024-08-08

Silent Film Adaptations of Novels by British and American Women Writers 1903 1929 focuses on fifty three silent film adaptations of the novels of acclaimed authors George Eliot Charlotte Bront Emily Bront Mary Shelley Louisa May Alcott Harriet Beecher Stowe Willa Cather and Edith Wharton Many of the films are unknown or dismissed and most of them are degraded destroyed or lost burned in warehouse fires spontaneously combusted in storage cans or quietly turned to dust Their content and production and distribution details are reconstructed through archival resources as individual narratives that when considered collectively constitute a broader narrative of lost knowledge a fragmented and buried early twentieth century story now reclaimed and retold for the first time to a twenty first century audience This collective narrative also demonstrates the extent to which the adaptations are intertextually and ideologically entangled with concurrently released early woman s films to re promote and re instill the norm of idealized white married domesticated womanhood during a time of extraordinary cultural change for women Retelling this lost narrative also allows for a reassessment of the place and function of the adaptations in the development of the silent film industry and as cinematic precedent for the hundreds of sound adaptations of the literary texts of these eight women writers produced from 1931 to the 2020s

The Literary Voices of Winnifred Eaton Jean Lee Cole, 2002 Winnifred Eaton better known under her Japanese pseudonym Onoto Watanna was of English and Chinese heritage but born and raised in Canada She published over a dozen novels and hundreds of short stories magazine articles and screenplays during the first half of the twentieth century Her romances featuring Japanese and Eurasian heroines sold widely However by the time of her death in 1954 most of her books were out of print Winnifred unlike her sister the better known writer Edith Eaton has been a troubling figure for Asian Americanists She attempted to disguise her ethnic heritage writing under a Japanese pen name and in legal documents she usually claimed a white racial identity Scholars have noted her use of Orientalist stereotypes in her novels and even though she depicted a broad range of non Asian characters such as Irish maids and cowboys her portrayals often relied on the accepted stereotypes of the day Rather than dismiss her characterizations as evasions of the topics that readers today wish she had explored Jean Lee Cole asks why Winnifred Eaton may have chosen the subjects she did Cole shows that the many voices Eaton adopted reveal her deep

Hollywood's Second Sex Aubrey Malone, 2015-04-24 Women stars in Hollywood were invariably in two categories said director Otto Preminger One group was of women who were exploited by men and the other much smaller group was of women who survived by acting like men Beginning with silent film vamp Theda Bara and continuing with icons like Greta Garbo Marilyn Monroe and Raquel Welch this study of film industry misogyny describes how female stars were maltreated by a sexist studio system until women like Katharine Hepburn and Bette Davis fought for parity The careers of Doris Day Brigitte Bardot Carole Landis Frances Farmer Dorothy Dandridge Inger Stevens and many others are examined along with more recent actresses like Demi Moore and Sharon Stone Women who worked behind the scenes writing screenplays producing and directing without due credit are also covered Authors and Adaptation Annie Nissen, 2024-04-25 This book studies British literary writers engagement with adaptations of their work across literary theatrical and film media in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries It considers their critical reflective and autobiographical writings about the process of adaptation and traces how their work was shaped as well as delimited by their involvement with adaptations to different media and intermedial writing Linking canonical and non canonical writers both chronologically and contemporaneously and bridging studies of prose fiction adaptation from nineteenth century theatre to early twentieth century film this book offers an interdisciplinary transhistorical cultural and analytical study of adaptation and the variable positions of writers within and across media Women Adapting Bethany Wood, 2019-05-29 When most of us hear the title Gentlemen Prefer Blondes we think of Marilyn Monroe and Jane Russell s iconic film performance Few however are aware that the movie was based on Anita Loos s 1925 comic novel by the same name What does it mean Women Adapting asks to translate a Jazz Age blockbuster from book to film or stage What adjustments are necessary and what if anything is lost Bethany Wood examines three well known stories that debuted as women s magazine serials Gentlemen Prefer Blondes Edith Wharton s The Age of Innocence and Edna Ferber s Show Boat and traces how each of these beloved narratives traveled across publishing theatre and film through adaptation She documents the formation of adaptation systems and how they involved women s voices and labor in modern entertainment in ways that have been previously underappreciated What emerges is a picture of a unique window of time in the early decades of the twentieth century when women in entertainment held influential positions in production and management These days when filmic adaptations seem endless and perhaps even unoriginal Women Adapting challenges us to rethink the popular platitude The book is always better than the movie The SAGE Handbook of Film Studies James Donald, Michael Renov, 2008-04-16 Written by a team of veteran scholars and exciting emerging talents The SAGE Handbook of Film Studies maps the field internationally drawing out regional differences in the way that systematic intellectual reflection on cinema and film has been translated into an academic discipline It examines the conversations between Film Studies and its contributory disciplines that not only defined a new field of discourse but also modified existing scholarly traditions It reflects on the field's dominant paradigms and debates and evaluates their continuing salience Finally it looks forward optimistically to the future of the medium of film the institution of cinema and the discipline of Film Studies at a time when the very existence of film and cinema are being called into question by new technological industrial and aesthetic developments Never Done Erin Hill, 2016-10-05 Histories of women in Hollywood usually recount the contributions of female directors screenwriters designers actresses and other creative personnel whose names loom large in the credits Yet from its inception the American film industry relied on the labor of thousands more women workers whose vital contributions often went unrecognized Never Done introduces generations of women who worked behind the scenes in the film industry from the employees wives who hand colored the Edison Company's films frame by frame to the female immigrants who toiled in MGM's backrooms to produce beautifully beaded and embroidered costumes Challenging the dismissive characterization of these women as merely menial workers media historian Erin Hill shows how their labor was essential to the industry and required considerable technical and interpersonal skills Sketching a history of how Hollywood came to define certain occupations as lower paid women's work or feminized labor Hill also reveals how enterprising women eventually gained a foothold in more prestigious divisions like casting and publicity Poring through rare archives and integrating the firsthand accounts of women employed in the film industry the book gives a voice to women whose work was indispensable yet largely invisible As it traces this long history of women in Hollywood Never Done reveals the persistence of sexist assumptions that even today leave women in the media industry underpraised and underpaid For more information <http://erinhill.squarespace.com> The Art of Adapting Victorian Literature, 1848-1920 Dr Karen Laird, 2015-08-28 In The Art of Adapting Victorian Literature 1848-1920 Karen E Laird alternates between readings of nineteenth century stage and twentieth century silent film adaptations to demonstrate the working practices of the first adapters of Victorian fiction Focusing on Charlotte Brontë's Jane Eyre Charles Dickens's David Copperfield and Wilkie Collins's The Woman in White Laird charts a new cultural history of literary adaptation as it developed throughout the long nineteenth century Women Make Horror Alison Peirse, 2020-09-17 Winner of the the 2021 Best Edited Collection Award from BAFTSS Winner of the 2021 British Fantasy Award in Best Non Fiction Finalist for the 2020 Bram Stoker Award for Superior Achievement in Non Fiction

Cinematic Howling Hoi Cheu, 2010-10-01 Cinematic Howling presents a refreshingly unorthodox framework for feminist film studies Instead of criticizing mainstream movies from feminist perspectives Hoi Cheu focuses on women's filmmaking itself Integrating systems theory and feminist aesthetics in his close readings of films and screenplays by women he considers how women engage the process of storytelling in cinema The importance of these films he argues is not merely that they reflect women's perceptions but that they have the power to reframe experiences and consequently to transform life A major contribution to feminist scholarship that will appeal to scholars of both gender and film Cinematic Howling is written in an approachable and inviting style full of vivid examples and attention to detail which will suit both undergraduate and graduate courses in gender film and cultural studies
