Long Tomorrow:

The Long Tomorrow Michael R. Rose, 2005-09-15 The conquest of aging is now within our grasp It hasn't arrived yet writes Michael R. Rose but a scientific juggernaut has started rolling and is picking up speed A long tomorrow is coming In The Long Tomorrow Rose offers us a delightfully written account of the modern science of aging spiced with intriguing stories of his own career and leavened with the author's engaging sense of humor and rare ability to make contemporary research understandable to nonscientists The book ranges from Rose's first experiments while a graduate student counting a million fruit fly eggs which took 3 000 hours over the course of a year to some of his key scientific discoveries We see how some of his earliest experiments helped demonstrate that the force of natural selection was key to understanding the aging process a major breakthrough Rose describes how he created the well known Methuselah Flies fruit flies that live far longer than average Equally important Rose surveys the entire field offering colorful portraits of many leading scientists and shedding light on research findings from around the world We learn that rodents given fifteen to forty percent fewer calories live about that much longer and that volunteers in Biosphere II who lived on reduced caloric intake for two years all had improved vital signs Perhaps most interesting we discover that aging hits a plateau and stops Popular accounts of Rose's work have appeared in The New Yorker Time magazine and Scientific American but The Long Tomorrow is the first full account of this exciting new science written for the general reader Among his peers Rose is considered a brilliantly innovative scientist who has almost single handedly brought the evolutionary theory of aging from an abstract notion to one of the most exciting topics in science Malcolm Gladwell The New Yorker The Long Tomorrow Jef Anderson, 2013-12-10 This is a book about eternity and not merely about Heaven or Hell As new creations we're commanded to move away from what seems natural to us what feels like our earthly needs wants and desires In fact the Gospel calls us to become supernatural moving toward what is beyond our nature focusing on things outside the confines of this world Because of this many who we'll share eternity with never find their place in this earthly life never where their puzzle piece was supposed to fit If we are Heirs and Children of the King then our hope should be firmly set on what will be important to us when we're experiencing forever to those things critical during the Long Tomorrow The Long Tomorrow Leigh Brackett, 1974 The long tomorrow Moebius, 1989 The Overland Monthly, 1885 Overland Monthly and Out West Magazine, 1885
