The Look of Things Carsten Strathausen, 2003-12-04 Examining the relationship between German poetry philosophy and visual media around 1900 Carsten Strathausen argues that the poetic works of Rainer Maria Rilke Hugo von Hofmannsthal and Stefan George focused on the visible gestalt of language as a means of competing aesthetically with the increasing popularity and reality effect of photography and film Poetry around 1900 self reflectively celebrated its own words as both transparent signs and material objects Strathausen says In Aestheticism this means that language harbors the potential to literally present the things it signifies Rather than simply describing or picturing the physical experience of looking as critics have commonly maintained modernist poetry claims to enable a more profound kind of perception that grants intuitive insights into the very texture of the natural world

Adorno and Philosophical Modernism Roger S. Foster, 2016-08-29 Adorno and Philosophical Modernism The Inside of Things offers an original interpretation and vigorous defense of Theodor Adorno's idea of philosophy as the practice of what Roger Foster calls philosophical modernism Adorno's philosophical writings from the early 1930s to the mature works of the late 1960s are deeply informed by a distinctively modernist vision of human experience This book seeks to establish that Adorno's unique and lasting contribution to philosophy consists in his sustained and rigorous development of this modernist vision into an encompassing practice of philosophical interpretation The essential features of this vision can be discerned in all of Adorno's major writings in philosophy social theory and aesthetics Its defining element is the idea of a pattern underlying ordinary experience which although not directly accessible can be disclosed by the reconstructive work of philosophical or literary language This vision Foster argues can be discerned in the major works of literary modernism including Woolf Proust and Musil as well as in the interpretive technique of psychoanalysis developed by Sigmund Freud The importance of Adorno's contribution to twentieth century philosophy can only be fully appreciated by understanding how he developed this vision into an overarching practice of philosophical interpretation that furnished a coherent and profound response to the decay of experience afflicting late modern societies In this book Foster expounds that interpretive practice exploring its ramifications and in particular its relation with literary modernism and places it in critical dialogue with alternative philosophical

William Schindler and an investigation of the Mother centric spiritual sensibilities in various religious discourses and devotional literatures among other discussions In short this book investigates the possibilities of inserting the figure of the Great Mother into the critical domain of cultural pluralism thereby celebrating a multiculturalism that is not based on violence and conflict antagonism but grounded in harmony The Mother is seen by the discourse articulated here mainly as a middle ground between flesh and spirit knowledge and passion justice and compassion and in the red shadow of the Mother social epistemologies and academic discourses are radically renegotiated The Future of Philology Hannes

Bajohr, Benjamin R. Dorvel, Vincent Hessling, 2014-06-19 Philology master science of the nineteenth century has changed so radically over the course of the twentieth century that it is hardly recognizable in the twenty first Its scope has been transformed its methodology contested and its legitimacy called into doubt Does it still make sense to speak institutionally and epistemologically of philology Does this venerable title continue to signify a truly coherent field and not a multitude of scattered currents and competing genealogies differing national characteristics and inconsistent methodologies This volume collects answers by a range of young philologists given at the 11th Annual Columbia University German Graduate Student Conference They show that philology in its practices and theories continues to be the fundament of the ever expanding field of literature and language studies and that a discipline whose very core is the care for the text wields competencies that are indispensable for neighboring fields In conversation with Brecht and George Hamann and Rilke Nietzsche and Heidegger these essays confront questions of materiality epistemology and ontology that define as Sheldon Pollock put it the fate of a soft science in a hard world A Companion to the Literature of German Expressionism Neil H. Jung's Liber Novus Thomas Kirsch, George Hogenson, 2017-09-19 In 2009 WW Norton published The Red Book a book written by Jung in 1913 1914 but not previously published Snippets of information about the likely contents of the Red Book had been in circulation for years and there was much debate and eager anticipation of its publication within the Jungian field and the larger reading public In 2010 a conference was held at the San Francisco Jungian Institute which brought together an international group of distinguished scholars in analytical psychology to explore and address critical contextual aspects of The Red Book and to debate its importance for current and future Jungian theory and practice The Red Book Reflections on C G Jung's Liber Novus is based on that conference the individual papers have been thoroughly revised and updated for this book and address some of the important questions and issues that were raised at that conference in response to the presentation of these papers As yet there has been very little published about The Red Book The Red Book Reflections on C G Jung's Liber Novus will contribute to setting the agenda for further research both scholarly and clinical in response to Jung's account of his experiences between 1913-1914 when arguably the future course of his entire project was set in motion This book will be essential reading for any Jungian interested in the importance of The Red Book analytical psychologists trainee analysts those with an interest in the history of ideas and historians
