Moving Singapore: from Rickshaws to Motorbikes Eileen Tan, 2019-11-06 This book is a story about a tiny business set up by an enterprising 19 year old that grew to become one of the largest and most well respected companies in Singapore's two wheeler industry. It tracks the opportunities and challenges that Ban Hock Hin faced in Singapore and in the region over eighty years. The story focuses on how the founder's son built up Ban Hock Hin during Singapore's post independence years. It recounts the times he turned each crisis that the business faced into a catalyst for its growth and in doing so forged the company into the industry leader it is today. In the telling of this story we also trace the roots of his family, catch glimpses of Singapore society before and after the war and look at the history of two wheelers in Singapore. Part biography and part family business history, it is a tale about an ordinary Singaporean running a Singaporean business and some of the extraordinary things he achieved while doing it.

Bicycle Transportation John Forester, 1994 This new edition of John Forester's handbook for transportation policy makers and bicycling advocates has been completely rewritten to reflect changes of the last decade. It includes new chapters on European bikeway engineering, city planning, integration with mass transit and long distance carriers, traffic calming and the art of encouraging private sector support for bicycle commuting. A professional engineer and an avid bicyclist, John Forester combined those interests in founding the discipline of cycling transportation engineering, which regards bicycling as a form of vehicular transportation equal to any other form of transportation. Forester, who believes that riding a bicycle along streets with traffic is safer than pedaling on restricted bike paths and bike lanes, argues the case for cyclists' rights with zeal and with statistics based on experience, traffic studies and roadway design standards. Over the nearly two decades since Bicycle Transportation was first published, he has brought about many changes in the national standards for highways, bikeways, bicycles and traffic laws. His Effective Cycling Program continues to grow.
